The New World versus the Old.

There is something wonderful in the fact that European amateurs and musicians who desire a first-class piano, have to send to this country for it. Yet this is really the fact, and it is the result, principally, of the award of a first-class prize medal to the Steinway Pianos at the London World's Fair, in 1862. The popularity in Europe of these Piano-Fortes is steadily on the increase, and, in time, bids fair to equal that enjoyed by them in our own country. At a great prize-trial which has just taken place in Germany, between the two foremost makers of that country and the Steinway & Sons, New York, the following conclusion was arrived at, and is expressed in the Leipsic Musical Gazette in the following terms:—"The Piano trial between Blathner, of Berlin, Bechstein, of Leipsic, and Steinway & Sons, of New York, has demonstrated that while the former two have a very agreeable and sweet tone, the instruments of Steinway & Sons surpass them in nobleness of tone and comprehensiveness of volume."

A New Party and New Platform.

The United Service Society is the name of a new political party just organized in New York, with Maj. Gen. G. K. WARREN as President. The society is composed entirely of those who have served in either branch of the national service, and received an honorable discharge therefrom. The Committee on declarations of principles, of which Brig. Gen. J. H. HOBART WARD was chairman, reported a preamble and series of resolutions, which were adopted, setting forth as proof of the patriotism of the members of the society their services in the late protracted struggle, and declaring it to be their duty and right to "participate actively in giving direction and aid to the public policy which is to guide the future destiny of the republic and administer its affairs, heretofore too much under the control of unprincipled demagogues and place-seekers;" and that in "the future distribution of places of public trust and confidence, preference should always be given to those who have served the Union cause in the military or naval service during the rebellion, particularly those who have received permanent injuries therein." This platform was unanimously adopted. The Society invites the soldiers and sailors of the Union to form kindred associations throughout the country.

GEN. GRANT IN PHILADELPHIA.—Lieutenant General GRANT made a grand tour of Philadelphia on Saturday, visiting among other prominent places, the Mint, and was everywhere received with the greatest enthusiasm. On Saturday morning, the Lieutenant General held a reception at the Union League House, on Broad street, where the members of the League and their families were personally introduced to him. There are upwards of sixteen hundred members of the League, and, as their families were included in the reception, there must have been a great crowd present. In the afternoon, General GRANT attended the Childrens' Musical Festival at the Academy of Music, and in the evening was entertained by the President and Directors of the Union League.

THE ASSASSINATION.

The Confession of Atzerott—He was in the Conspiracy to Capture the President, but not to Kill.

Before proceeding with his argument in behalf of Atzerott, Mr. Doster, on Wednesday, read the following statement by his client, which the prisoner desired submitted to the court:

I am one of a party who agreed to capture the President of the United States, but I am not one of a party to kill the President of the United States, or any member of the Cabinet, or General Grant, or Vice President Johnson. The first plot to capture failed, the second to kill I broke away from the moment I heard of it.

This is the way it came about: On the evening of the 14th of April I met Booth and Payne at the Herndon House, in this city, a 8 o'clock. He (Booth) said he himself would take charge of Mr. Lincoln and Gen. Grant. Payne should take Mr. Seward, and I should take Mr. Johnson. I told him I would not do it; that I had gone into the thing to capture, but I was not going to kill. He told me I was a fool; that I would be hung anyhow, and that it was death to every man that backed out, and so we parted. I wandered about the street until about two o'clock in the morning, and then went to the Kimmel House, and from there pawned my pistol at Georgetown, and went to my cousin's house, in Montgomery county, where I was arrested the 19th following.

After I was arrested I told Provost Marshal Wells and Provost Marshal McPhail the whole story; also told it to Captain Monroe, and Col. Wells told me if I pointed out the way Booth had gone I would be reprieved, and so I told him I thought he had gone down to Charles county in order to cross the Potomac. The arms which were found in my room at the Kirkwood House and a black coat do not belong to me. On the afternoon of the 14th of April Harrold called to see me and left the coat there. It is his coat and all in it belongs to him, as you can see by the handkerchiefs, marked with his initials, with the name of his sister, Mrs. Naylor. Now, I will state how I passed the whole of the evening of the 14th of April. In the afternoon, about two o'clock, I went to Kelcher's stable on Eighth street, near D, and hired a dark bay mare and rode into the country for pleasure, and on my return put her up at Naylor's stable. The dark bay horse which I had kept at Naylor's before, on or about the 31st of April, belonged to Booth, and also the saddle and bridle, and I had charge of him to sell; and I do not know what became of him. At about six in the evening I went to Naylor's again and took out the mare, rode out for an hour and returned her to Naylor's. It was then nearly eight, and I told him to keep the mare ready at ten o'clock, in order to return her to the man I hired her from.

From there I went to the Herndon House; Booth sent a message to the "Oyster Bay," where I was, saying he wanted to see me, and I went. Booth wanted me to murder Mr. Johnson, I refused. I then went to the "Oyster Bay," on the avenue, above 12th street, and whiled away the time until near 10. At 10 I got the mare, and having taken a drink with the hostler, galloped about town, and went to the Kimmell House. From there I rode down to the depot, and returned my horse, rididing up Pennsylvania avenue to Kelcher's. From Kelcher's I went down to the Navy Yard to get a room with Wash. Briscoe. He had none, and by the time I got back to the Kimmell House it was near 2. The man Thomas was a stranger I met on the street. Next morning, as stated, I went to my cousin Richter's, in Montgomery county.

GEORGE A. ATZEROTT.

Incoming Crops.

Exchanges report the growing crops as favorable in Maine, the Potato crop it is said, will yield 8,000,000 of bushels, and the Hay crop will be immense. The Wheat crop at the West and in Western New-York also promises a handsome yield. The prospects in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Iowa, are all of the most promising kind. From the South the accounts are most desponding, but better than a few weeks ago. Wheat is likely to yield abundantly, having to a great extent displaced other crops less valuable as means of subsistence. In Tennessee, the crops in Fayette, Tipton and Shelby counties give a cheerful promise of large returns. The Cotton looks fine, and Wheat is a full average, with much more Corn and Wheat planted this year than last. The fruit crop also looks well. In Georgia, the Wheat crop is nearly all harvested, and is perhaps about the average yield. There is a large amount of Corn growing, and will produce a large crop if the weather is not too dry. Of Cotton but a small surface is planted, and much of that since the armistice, upon ground previously planted with Corn. In North Carolina, the Wheat crop of the State will turn out an abundant yield. A gentleman who has travelled in various portions of the State, says the farmers are very busy harvesting their crops. Favorable accounts also come from Arkansas, Alabama, Western Louisiana and parts of Missouri. From South Carolina they are variable.

TROOPS TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

General Grant's Monthly Pay.

Decisions Relating to Transfers into the Navy.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, June 25.

The once magnificent

Army of the Potomac

Which originally consisted of seven Corps de Armie, and which embraced in its ranks at one time over three hundred thousand soldiers, will by the reductions now in progress be diminished to three divisions, forming, if they remain together, one army corps, about sixteen thousand strong. Forty-six regiments, most of them veteran organizations, and numbering fifteen thousand men go out under the orders referred to in the dispatch of yesterday.

Pennsylvanians to be Mustered Out.

Among the regiments which will be mustered out are the following from Pennsylvania: 11th, 53d, 56th, 57th, 69th, 81st, 83d 87th, 98th, 93d, 93d, 98th, 99th, 102d, 106th, 109th, 190th and 199th. No Western regiments are included, all such being sent west to report to Gen. Logan, some weeks since.

General Sherman's Army

Will probably be reduced in the same proportion as the Army of the Potomac.

The citizens of Fredericksburg, Virginia, have petitioned Postmaster General Dennison for the appointment of a postmaster at that place. There are thirteen applicants for the position.

WASHINGTON, June 24.

Hereafter Southern rebels desiring to take

The Oath of Allegiance

Will be required to do so in the districts where they reside, and where the genuiness of their loyalty or conversion thereto can be determined. Heretofore they have been flocking to Washington, where they are unknown, and by representing themselves as refugees or loyalists at heart who were forced into the rebellion, many have succeeded in getting their political disabilities removed, and have gone home to look out for good places in reconstructed State governments.

It is believed that the Appointment of Judge Edmond

As acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs will be permanent, Commissioner Dale having been got out of the way by a sort of banishment among the Indian tribes on the frontier.

Visitors to the President.

This morning President Johnson had to stand the pressure of a delegation of twenty-four youths from the House of Refuge in Baltimore. They were organized as a brass band, and after executing the "Star Spangled Banner," received a congratulatory address from the President.

Sixteen wealthy citizens of Richmond, members of the rebel Ambulance Commission, and thirty-six North Carolinians, recommended by Gov. Holden, received special pardons to-day.

The Sale of Public Lands.

The acting Commissioner of the General Land Office has advised the local land offices at St. Peters, Minn., that the lands within the late Winnebago Indian reservation cannot be sold at a price less than the appraised value until otherwise ordered by the Secretary of the Interior. There is over eighteen thousand acres of land within the reservation still undisposed of, the appraised value of which is from $1 25 to $3 00 per acre.

During the week ending to day thirty-four

National Banks

Were authorized, with an aggregate capital of ten millions six hundred and twenty-eight thousand seven hundred and ten dollars. The number of banks now in operation is 1,334, with a total capital of $320,924,700.

During the same period over twoand a quarter millions of

Bank Currency

Was issued by the Treasury, making the amount now in circulation a fraction over one hundred and forty-three millions.

Mr. H. W. Latham, a New York banker just arrived from Richmond, tells another

Improbable Story,

To the effect that a few days since a Provost Marshal near that city, for some reason, hung seven colored men up by their thumbs, with their arms extended over their heads, to remain so until his return, and that after being drunk until the next day, he returned and found four of them dead. Mr. Latham says that an effort was being made to hush the matter up. If there is anything in this story it will receive the attention of General Howard.

Troops to be Mustered Out.

Orders have been issued for the mustering out of all the re-enlisted veteran regiments of the Army of the Potomac. They will proceed to the different State rendezvous to receive their final payments as soon as the required muster rolls and discharges can be made out. It will probably take two weeks time for all the regiments to complete their arrangements. The old soldiers are heartily tired of the "do nothing" life they are leading, and the unexpected order providing for their discharge was received with cheers.

It is understood that

will deliver the Fourth of July oration in Chicago, and that he will take strong negro suffrage ground. Mr. Davis would have been the orator at Baltimore if he had not previously received the Chicago invitation. Governor Swan who is the second choice of the Baltimore City Council as their orator, will probably express more conservative sentiments.

Voters to be Registered in Maryland.

Gov. Bradford, of Maryland, has appointed to register the voters, as prescribed by the new constitution, men who will not put on their lists any returned rebels or secession synapathizers. Brigadier General Wagner Swaine, of Ohio, has been ordered to report to Major General Howard for assignment as Chief of

The Freedmen's Bureau,

For the State of Alabama, with his headquarters at Montgomery. He started for his post this evening, going by way of New York, where he will see judge Parsons, the new Provisional Governor of that State, and arrange for a co-operation in plans.

Several appli ations for pardon were filed in the Attorney General's office to-day by citizens of Virginia and Tennessee.

Gen. Grant's Monthly Pay,

Income tax deducted, is one thousand sixty-two dollars and seventy cents. This sum is exclusive of commutation of rations, quarters, etc., which amounts to nearly as much more.

The Second Comptroller has decided that all persons

Transferred to the Navy

Are entitled to the same bounty to which they would have been entitled for the same period of service under their enlistment in the army, to be paid out of the proper appropriation for the navy or marine corps, provided that any prize money to which they may become entitled shall be subjected to a deduction of the amount of said bounty.

Adjournment of the Congregational Church Council.

BOSTON, June 24.

The National Council of the Congregational Churches closed its deliberations this afternoon and adjourned sine die. Previous to the adjournment, Friday, September 15, was recommended as a day of fasting and prayer by the churches represented in the Council. Rev. Messrs. Kirk and Daugett, of Illinois, and Snyder, of Connecticut, were appointed to prepare a letter to the churches giving the spirit and result of the Council.

FT. MONROE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Statement of the Negotiations.

A. H. Stephens' Version of the Affair.

Jeff Davis Shown Up.

HIGHLY INTERESTING DOCUMENT.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and Sentinel, of the 7th inst., gives a full account of the conference held at Fortress Monroe in January last, which is a full statement of the negotiations, and is understood to have been prepared at the instance of Mr. Stephens.

The Chronicle and Sentinel says Mr. Davis did not communicate to the public the truth concerning the conference.

Stephens says Davis first sent for him to say Mr. Blair desired a conference between the authorities of the United States and the South, upon the subject of peace, and asked Stephens' advice. He replied, if Mr. Blair spoke by authority of President Lincoln, he most earnestly advised a conference, and recommended that the strictest secresy be used, and that the parties to the conference be Presidents Lincoln and Davis, and Generals Grant and Lee be the only persons to know of the meeting.

Davis disregarded all advice, and Mr. Stephens was informed, two days later, that himself Hunter and Campbell were to go. Stephens did not want to go, but went to avoid unfriendly remarks. The three Southern gentlemen met Messrs. Lincoln and Seward, and after some remarks the subject of peace was opened. Mr. Stephens argued the claims of his section with skill and address, for which Northern papers have given him credit. Mr. Lincoln, holding the vantage ground of conscious power, was perfectly frank, and submitted his views almost in the form of an argument. The Commission made a report, saying that Mr. Lincoln referred them to his message of December last, and refusing in any way to recognize the Confederate Government, or acknowledge Davis' power to make peace.

Mr. Lincoln assured them they might rely on a liberal exercise of pardoning power. He suggested it would be far better for rebellious States to return at once than to risk the chances of continuing the war and increasing the bitterness of feeling in Congress.

Mr. Stephens reported to Davis that nothing had been done; but that nothing was determined, and if he relied upon the sincerity of Blair, the conference was but a confirmation of a desire for peace on the part of the United States, and the way was open for settlement.

Davis looked upon the proposals as insulting, and seemed to have a cold regard of Hunter. In that view he wished the statement to go before the public that only insulting terms were tendered; but the commission declined to make it, on the ground that it was not true. With some difficulty they secured the reception of a brief and perfectly truthful but not very clear report that was published, and Davis put coloring to it and endeavored to secure his object of crushing Southern the peace party by inflammatory dispatches sent over the country and followed by the actual report with the preface which was published at the time.

France and Mexico.

Proceedings in French Legislature.

REMARKS OF JULES FAVRE.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.

The Herald has the translation of the debate in the French Legislature, on June 8th, on the Mexican question. Jules Favre, leader of the republican party, said that an expedition was undertaken to recover the recognized claim of 1,000,000f, with eventual claims which might vary from five to twelve millions, and they had already incurred the expense of four hundred millions. It had been promised that French troops would protect Mexicans in full exercise of their opinions, but this had not been done. Favre cited a case where the French troops had burned a town of four thousand inhabitants. He declared that to attain the object they had in view, would take 40,000 men ten years, at an expense of six hundred millions.

If it were the intention of France to continue the Mexican expedition, no effort should be spared, but if the establishment of a monarchy was an impossibility it would be the part of France to withhold her blood and her treasure. The debate was very fierce and exciting, and the speaker was frequently interrupted. He declared that Maximilian's empire would fall to pieces as soon as the French troops were withdrawn, and denounced the scheme of the Mexican loan.

HIGHLY INTERESTING DECISIONS.

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, June 24.

The United States vs. The claimants for seventy bales of cotton.—This case was heard in the United States District Court, before Judge Loring. The cotton was picked up, floating off Wilmington, N. C., by the steamer Vicksburg. The United States labelled it as a prize, and the Vicksburg claimed it as property derelict. The decision is now given that the property is a prize to the United States. It has heretofore been the practice in New York to allow the finder to keep cotton and goods picked up, although the point has not been, previous to this decision, adjudicated. This decision establishes therefore a very valuable precedent.

In the same court a motion was made by the United States Attorney for sale of the Georgia, the celebrated English cruiser, and was resisted in behalf of Ed. Bates of Liverpool. The claim was allowed by the court, and the sale of the vessel ordered on the ground that longer delay would cause such depreciation in the value of the vessel as to affect the interests of all parties concerned.

The Late Accident on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad.

Special to Western Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 24.

The dispatch from Louisville, giving an account of the accident on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, at Loogootee, Indiana, in which it was stated that fifteen soldiers were killed and one hundred and fifty wounded, is pronounced by the officers of the road to be without foundation.

An accident occurred Thursday, at Carlisle station, in which the engineer, fireman and two soldiers were killed, and eight or ten soldiers wounded, and this is the only one that has occurred on the line.

WASHINGTON, June 24.

At the Government sale of vessels lately belonging to the Potomac fleet the following vessels were disposed of: The wooden side-wheel steamer Baltimore, length 200 feet, $16,000; purchaser, Thomas Clyde, of Philadelphia. The propellor Watch, length 62 feet, $2,600; purchaser, Robert Sear, of Baltimore. The single engine propellor Teaser, length 80 feet, $2,500; purchaser, Joseph Byler, of New York. The double engine propellor Resolute, length 80 feet, $6,300; purchaser, J. Southorn, of Richmond. The single engine propellor Zebra, length 53 feet, $450; purchaser, Gilbert Van Denverken, of Georgetown, D. C.

Arrival of Cotton--Steamer Sunk.

Special to the Western Associated Press.

CAIRO, May 24.

An arrival from New Orleans on the 18th brings ten thousand and thirty-four bales cotton for Cairo, and three hundred and twenty-six bales for St. Louis. One hundred and fifty for St. Louis passed up last night. It is thought one thousand bales will cover the amount of cotton in the Red river country.

The steamer Carolina was recently sunk a short distance below Little Rock. Estimated loss, $70,000.

The cotton and tobacco crops along the Mississippi are reported as promising.

In Memphis ordinary cotton sold at 24@25c; good, 26@27c; low middling, 31@32c; fair middling, 34c.

GEN. HURLBUT DEMANDS A COURT MARTIAL.

Lord Brougham, in a speech at a banquet to the Prince of Wales, at Fishmonger's Hall, earnestly called upon the Americans to use their victory in mercy as well as in justice, and not stain the scaffold with the blood of prisoners whom they recently treated as warriors.

In the House of Lords, Earl Derby called attention to Earl Russell's letter withdrawing belligerent rights from the Confederates before the Federal Government ceased to exercise their rights to Johnson's proclamation announcing the penalties of piracy against vessels visiting interdicted ports. He protested against such procedure, and asserted that such vessels could only be treated as smugglers. He hoped the prisoners in Federal hands would be treated as warriors, and not as disgraced enemies.

Earl Russell explained his withdrawal of belligerent rights. He said that Sir F. Bruce had sought an explanation of Johnson's extraordinary threat of treating vessels as pirates, but could get none. His opinion was that the threat was merely one of in terrorem.

In the House of Commons Mr. Layard said several applications had been made to the Federal Government to obtain compensation for the shooting of Mr. Grey by Lieut. Donovan, U. S. N., off the Cape of Good Hope, but they positively declined to make any compensation.

Frauds on the Government by Obliterating Marks on Cancelled Stamps

Highly Important to Volunteer Soldiers

General Dix's Visit to Canada.

Dismantling Field Works near Washington.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.

The Tribune's Washington special says: It is reported that frauds to an alarming extent are being practiced upon the Government by an ingenious method of obliterating cancelled stamps and which can be done so completely that the stamp may be used any number of times. A plan has been submitted to the Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury by which the marks of cancellation cannot be removed without destroying the face of the stamp, thus affording perfect security against further frauds.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

Wreck of the Steamer Golden Rule.

All the Passengers and Crew Saved.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.

The steamer Ocean Queen brings Panama dates to the 16th. The Star and Herald announces the wreck of the steamer Golden Rule, of the line from New York to Nicaragua, on the 30th of May, on Roncondor Reef, thirty-five miles from the island of Old Providence; she was bound from New York to Greytown, and had 620 passengers for San Francisco, besides a full crew, all of whom were saved and landed on the island, with sufficient provisions to support them until taken off.

It appears that the Golden Rule first exploded one of her flues, after which she collided with a ferry boat, damaging one of her paddle wheels, and detaining her from going to sea till the 22d. At 3:40 A. M. on the 30th, in a heavy rain, she struck a rook and stuck fast.

On the 8th instant, the United States steamers Huntsville and State of Georgia sailed from Aspinwall for the wreck, to bring away the passengers. They were brought to Aspinwall, and forwarded to San Francisco by the steamer America.

The Ocean Queen brings $180,000 in specie.

TREATY WITH CHOCTAW INDIANS.

Special to the Western Associated Press.

FORT SMITH, June 24.

Ex-Governor Wade, of the Choctaw Nation, has arrived here from Doaksville to confer with General Bush Roby, commanding the district of the frontier, for the return to their homes of all Choctaw Indians who have been engaged in the Confederate army. A temporary treaty of peace was effected with the Choctaws at Doaksville, on the 18th inst., by Colonel Matthews, of the 99th Illinois infantry, who was sent as commissioner on the part of the United States. The Indians agreed to cease at once all hostilities against the United States, return to their homes and resume their former occupations.

Governor Wade brings resolutions adopted by the Grand Council of twenty tribes, who met at Armstrong Academy on the sixteenth, which declare that they will immediately cease all acts of hostility to the United States, and will send delegations of five from each tribe to Washington to negotiate for a permanent peace. The Indians appear very friendly to the United States, and anxious to resume friendly relations. The Grand Council is to meet again on the 1st of September.

General Beatty has issued an order inviting Indians to return to their homes, assuring them they would not be molested by the United States Government so long as they faithfully keep the temporary treaty of peace entered into. He has also provided for the payment for all beef cattle procured from the Indian nations for the United States troops, and provided for the protection of their property. Governor Wade gives assurance that no further trouble will be occasioned by the Choctaws.

INTERVIEW WITH THE PRESIDENT.

His Reply to their Overtures.

His View on Slavery and Reconstruction

Special to Western Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24.

A delegation from South Carolina, consisting of the following named persons, had, late this afternoon, an interview by appointment with the President: Judge Frost, Isaac E. Holmes, Geo. W. Williams, W. H. Gillet, J. A. Steinmyer, Frederick Richards, Wm. Whaley, Jas. H. Taylor, R. N. Gill, and Jos. A. Yates.

The President said it was his intention to talk plainly, so there might be no misunderstanding. Therefore, it was better they should look each other full in the face, and not imitate ancient augurers who when they met one another could smile at their success in deceiving people.

He said if this Union was to be preserved, it must be on the principle of fraternity, both Northern and Southern States maintaining certain relations to the Government. A State cannot go out of the Union, and, therefore, none of them having gone out, we must deal with the question of restoration and reconstruction.

He suspected he was a better States Rights man than some of those now here. He always thought slavery could not be sustained outside of the Constitution of the United States, and that whenever the experiment was made it would be lost. Whether it could or could not, he was for the Union, and if slavery set itself up to control the Government, the Government must triumph and slavery perish. The institution of slavery made the issue, and we might as well meet it like wise and patriotic men. All institutions must be subordinate to the Government, and slavery has given way.

He could not if he would, remand it to its former status. He knew that some whom he now addressed, looked upon him as a great people's man and a radical, but however unpleasant it might be to them, he had no hesitation in saying that before he entered upon this subject, he was opposed to monopolies and perpetual entails. For this he used to be denounced as a demagogue.

We had a monopoly South in slaves. Though he had bought and held slaves he had never sold one. From the Magna Charta we had derived our ideas of freedom of speech, the liberty of the press, and that private property should not be taken for public uses without just compensation.

He had these notions fixed in his mind, and was therefore opposed to class legislation. Being providentially brought to his present condition, he intended to exert the power and influence of the Government so as to place in power the popular part of the nation. He proceeded on the principle that the great masses are not the mushrooms about a stump which the wet weather supplies.

He believed that this nation was sent on a great mission to afford an example of freedom and substantial happiness to all the powers of the earth. The constitution of the United States, in speaking of persons to be chosen as representatives in Congress, says that the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most memorous branch of the State Legislature. Here we find a resting place. This was the point at which the rebellion commenced. All the States were in the Union, moving in harmony; but a portion of them rebelled, and to some extent suspended and paralyzed the operations of their government. There is a constitutional obligation resting upon the United States government to put down rebellion, suppress insurrection and repel invasion.

The slaves went into the war as slaves and came out as freemen of color. They have rubbed out the nature and character of slavery. The loyal men who were compelled to bow and submit to the rebellion, should, now that the rebellion is ended, stand equal to loyal men everywhere. Since the wish of restoration and the trying to get back the States to the point at which they formerly moved was in perfect harmony, he did not intend to serve any particular clique or interest.

He would say to the delegation that slavery is gone as an institution. There was no hope that the people of South Carolina would be admitted into the Senate or the House of Representatives until they had afforded evidence by their conduct of this truth. The policy now is that the rebellion is suppressed is not to restore the State Government through military rule but by the people. While the war has emancipated slaves it has emancipated a large number of white men.

He would talk plain, as the delegation had said that what they desired. He could go to a gentleman who had owned fifty or a hundred slaves, and who did not care as much for the poor white man as they did for the negro. Those who own land have the capital to employ help, and, therefore, some of our Northern friends are deceived when they, living afar off, think they can exercise a greater control over the proceedings than the Southern men who have been reared where the institution of slavery has prevailed.

LATE WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Special Dispatch to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.

The Herald's Washington special gives the following as part of the hotel gossip:—It is reported that a Cabinet meeting of yesterday was of a somewhat exciting nature, the deliberation extending into the evening. It is said some recent acts of the new Secretary of the Interior was made the subject of very plain discussion and pointed criticisms.

It is thought Governor Pierpont will have to give up his Legislature, and call for the election of a new one.

The President applies himself closely to business.

It is said the attempt to Tylerize the administration is likely to prove a failure. While the President will do ample justice to all loyal Democrats, and cordially fraternize with them, he will not turn his back on the great party which elected him. There are no indications at present of any immediate changes in the Cabinet.

Jay Cooke's manifesto is not in any way an emanation from the Treasury Department, nor has it in its favor. It is reported that Mr. McCulloch said his hope was that the national debt may be so managed as not to be a national calamity.

FROM THE SOUTHWEST.

Special to the Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.

The Herald's New Orleans dispatches contain the substance of opposite statements of the Republican, the imperial Mexican organ, regarding Gen. Negrete's late appearance before Matamoras, and his sudden retreat therefrom. Negrete gives as his principal reason for not continuing his attempt to capture the town that Mejia, the imperial commander was receiving important assistance from American rebels on the Texas side of the Rio Grande.

Mejia claims that the principal credit for holding the place is due to his own skill and energy. There is no mention of any change in the condition of affairs around Matamoras since the date of previous accounts. It is said there are many American officers in the armies of the Mexican Republicans.

Bishop Gregg, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Diocese of Texas, has issued a pastoral letter, recommending the return to the form of liturgy in use before the rebellion.

THE TURF.

Close of the Cincinnati Spring Pacing Meeting—Fourth Day at Abbey Trotting Park, St. Louis.

The spring races at the Cincinnati Trotting Park was concluded Friday noon. The attendance was larger than on any previous day, and the most perfect order was maintained. Four races, all running, had been arranged. The first was for a stake of $400 each, half forfeit, and $500 added by the proprietor of the Burnet House. For this race there were twelve entries, but at the time of starting only one horse, "Bay Dick," owned by R. A. Alexander, appeared upon the track. He merely galloped over the track and was declared the winner. The second race was for a purse of $1,000, three-mile heats, for all ages. For this race there was only one entry, viz: the imperial "Asteroid." He was run over the track at a moderate pace, and also declared the winner. The next race, which was the most exciting that has taken place this season, was for a purse of $300, best in five.

The fourth and last race was for six baskets of Champagne, 1½ mile dash. There were two entries, viz: a brown filly, by R. A. Alexander, and "Dr. Lindsey," by J. W. Weldon. This race was won easily by the Doctor.

We annex the

At the Abbey Trotting Park, St. Louis, on Thursday, there were two fine races. The first race announced on the programme was for a purse of $600, with inside stake of $200 each, pay or play—three-mile heats to harness. The following well-known animals were entered for it, viz: Bay Prince, Lilly Simpson, Lady Walker and Jersey Boy. These are all good trotters, but Lilly Simpson was the favorite in pool selling.

The other race was for a purse of $50, mile heats, free for all horses that never trotted for money. The following four entries were made: Nebraska Maid, Tom Foster, Clifford and Puss—an excellent field. The following summary shows the result:

Purse $200, with inside stake of $200 each, p. p. Three-mile heats to harness. Closed with the following entries:

South Carolinians and the President

HIGHLY INTERESTING COLLOQUY.

What the Delegation Desire.

Conclusion of President's Remarks.

[Following is the conclusion of the interview between the President, and the South Carolina Delegation, a portion of which appears in our first edition.—COM.]

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 24.

Now he did want the late slaveholders to control the negro vote against the white men. Let each State judge of the depository of its own political power. He was for emancipation; he was for emancipating the white man as well as the black.

Mr. Holmes asked, is not that altogether accomplished.

The President replied that he did not think the question fully settled. The question as to whether the black man shall be engrafted in the constitution will be settled as we go along. He would not disguise the fact that while he had been persecuted and denounced at the south as a traitor, he loved the great mass of the Southern people. He opposed the rebellion at its breaking out, and fought it everywhere, and now wanted the principles of the Government carried out, and maintained.

Mr. Holmes interrupted by saying we want to get back to the same position as you describe. As we are without law no courts are open, and you have the power to assist us.

The President replied that the Government cannot go on unless it is based on right. The people of South Carolina must have a convention and amend their Constitution by abolishing slavery, and this must be done in good faith, and the Convention or Legislature must adopt the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which excludes slavery everywhere.

One of the delegates said—"We are most anxious for civil rule; for we have had enough of military despotism."

The President, resuming, said that, as the Executive, he could only take the initiatory steps to enable them to do the thing which it was incumbent upon them to do.

Another of the delegates remarked that it was published in some parts of the country that in consequence of the rebellion the Southern States have forfeited their rights as members of the Confederacy, and that, if restored, it could only be on certain conditions, one of which was that slavery shall be abolished. This could be done only through a convention.

The President repeated that the friction of the rebellion had rubbed slavery out, but it would be better so to declare by the Constitution. One of the delegates had just remarked that if the Constitution of South Carolina did not establish slavery it were better to insert a clause antagonistic to slavery.

Delegate Frost said, substantially, that the object of our prayer is the appointment of a Governor. The State of South Carolina will accept these conditions in order that peace and order may be restored and that enterprise and industry may be directed to useful ends. We desire restoration as soon as possible. It is the part of wisdom to make the best of circumstances.

Certain delusions have been dispelled by the revolution; among them, that of slavery as being an element of political strength and moral power. It is very certain that the old notion respecting State Rights, in the maintenance of which those who made the rebellion in South Carolina erred, has ceased to exist. Another delusion, viz.: that cotton is king has likewise vanished.

With these notions dispelled, and with a new system of labor, the people of South Carolina will cordially co-operate with the government in making that labor effective and elevating the negro as much as they can. It is, however, mere a work of time than the labor of enthusiasm and fanaticism. The people of the South have the largest interest in the question. We are willing to co-operate for selfish if for no higher motives. We have taken the liberty, encouraged by your kindness, to throw out suggestions by which the policy of the government will be most surely and effectually subserved.

I repeat, that the new system of labor is to be inaugurated by sober, sound, and discreet judgment. The negroes are ignorant; their minds are much inflamed with liberty. They are apt to confound liberty with license. Their great idea is a fear that freedom consists of exemption from work.

We will take in good faith and carry out your intentions for the best; and none will rejoice more than the people of the South, if emancipation proves successful. Freedom to the slave is freedom to the master, provided you supply a motive for industry. The people of South Carolina, from their fidelity to honor, have submitted to great sacrifices. They endured all. We are defeated and conquered by the North, who are too strong for us. The same good faith that animated them in their contest will not be found wanting in their pledge of loyal support to the Government. There may grow out of this blessings which you have not foreseen, and some pleasing rays now illumine the horizon.

I suppose the oath of allegiance will be taken with as much equanimity in South Carolina as anywhere else, and will submit to the condition of things which Providence has assigned, and endeavor to believe all discords, harmony not understood, and partial evil, universal good. We cheerfully accept the measures recommended and would thank you to nominate, at your convenience, a Governor to carry out the wishes you have expressed.

President Johnson asked the delegates to submit whom they would prefer as Provisional Governor.

As to this they replied that they had a list of five men, viz.: A. M. McClahanny, Boyce, Col. Manning, late Governor, and B. H. Perry. All of them were spoken of as good men, but who had been more or less involved in the rebellion. Mr. Perry was a District Judge in the Confederacy until a few weeks before its collapse, and is said to have always been a good Union man and a gentleman of strict integrity. The people certainly would respect him, and he could not fail to be accepted.

The President said he knew Benj. Perry well, having served with him in Congress. There was no spirit of vengeance or vendictiveness on the part of the Government, whose only desire was to restore the relations which formerly existed. He was not now prepared to give them an answer as to whom he should appoint, but at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday he would repeat the substance of the interview, with a hope to the restoration which the gentlemen present earnestly desired.

The delegation appeared to be much pleased with the interview, and lingered some time to individually converse with the President.

PARDONS ASKED AND GRANTED.

The Clemency of President Johnson.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 25.

The following named persons have applied for and received the President's pardon under his proclamation of the 29th of May: G. M. Bruce and H. W. Bruce, of Kentucky; J. J. English, Arthur N. Marr, and Asa Snyder, of Richmond; J. D. Deane, Jr., of Lynchburg; J. R. Edmunds and Thomas Edmunds, of Halifax county, Virginia; B. Thomson, of Williamsburg; Francis L. Smith, of Alexandria; John W. Malester and S. B. Weaklen, of Alabama; J. Healy and Levi S. White, of Missouri; D. M. Key, of Maryland; Jeshua Hill, of Morgan county, Georgia; John B. Lace, Sebastian county, Arkansas; Caleb S. Stone, of Saint Louis; George Crandall, of Louisiana.

Attorney General Speed having examined the cases of the following persons presented through their representative, Hon. M. F. Conway, has recommended to the President that they be pardoned. They are merchants of Richmond, each worth over twenty thousand dollars, and are members of the rebel ambulance Committee: John Enders, John Purcell, John Dawley, Chas. J. White, W. Glozebrock, R. H. Maury, J. L. Apperson, S. H. Montague, R. H. Dehall, J. W. M'Cune, R. A. Payne, J. Payne, Chas. H. Winne, Thos. W. Boswell, G. S. Palmer, Chas T. Woreham.

JEFF DAVIS' HEALTH.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 23.

Incorrect statements, not emanating from here, have appeared in several journals regarding the health and condition of Jeff Davis. We would inform the public that his health at the present time is much better than when he landed. This morning he was seen by our informant smoking, and apparently in a calm state of mind. He is not in irons, and his quarters are very comfortable. General Nelson, military commandant at this post, has established a quarantine regulation at the entrance of Hampton Roads.

Ben. Wood Desires an Investigation.

NEW YORK, June 25.

Benj. Wood has requested the Military Commission, trying the conspiracy case, to thoroughly investigate the matter of Lee's reserving 25,000 men from Jacob Thompson, as testified to before the commission.

Rebels Joining the Mexican Army.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.

The Tribune's New Orleans special learns, on the authority of a Texan officer, that 5,000 of the late rebel army of Texas have gone over the Rio Grande to enter the Mexican army. They are mostly Missourians and Texans. They declared they could not live under the United States flag, and would even fight with negroes against it. A heavy bounty is offered to men to enter the army of Mexico.

Three thousand seven hundred and ninety-one bales of cotton, received from the Red River on account of the Lousiana State Bank, have been sequestered in favor of the State of Louisiana on heavy claims. This will net about $375,000.

LATEST FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

Negroes again at their Old Vocations

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.

A correspondent of the Herald writing from North Carolina, says: Many of the planters are very desirous of the settlement in their midst of good Northern farmers, now that the emancipation of the slaves will necessarily change the agricultural system. The negroes in many portions of the State are again at work on the plantations as industriously as before the movement of their freedom.

The Wilmington, North Carolina, Herald of the 17th, says the removal of restrictions on trade have had a wonderful effect on bringing out cotton, turpentine, rosin, and other products. Large quantities are being brought from outhouses and other hiding places. The last steamer had a full cargo, and left enough on the wharf to freight another steamer. Large orders for goods have been sent North, and all branches of business are improving with remarkable rapidity.

ARRIVAL OF COTTON FOR ST. LOUIS

Acquittal of the Officers of the Steamer Kentucky.

CAIRO, June 25.

The steamer Ruth, from New Orleans the 19th, arrived with two hundred bales of cotton for St. Louis, and one hundred and thirty bales passed for St. Louis last night.

A letter from Shreveport, says the investigation touching the loss of the United States transport Kentucky, resulted in the acquittal of the officers in charge from all blame. The Commission held that the occurrence was entirely accidental. Orders have been issued prohibiting transports on Red river in the night time.

MOVEMENTS OF MILITARY OFFICERS.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 25.

A Herald's Washington special says:

Major General W. Fred. Gibbs and Brevet Brigadier General Fitz Hugh Lee, United States volunteers, have been ordered to report to General Sheridan. Major General Seth. Williams and Brevet Brigadier General T. T. Dent, of General Grant's staff, are ordered to St. Louis on an inspection tour, and will leave next week.

Serious Accident in Philadelphia.

The subscriptions to the Seven-Thirty Loan on Saturday amounted to $2,315,800. The total subscriptions for this week amount to $15,922,700.

A Hint for the Ladies.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT FLOWERS.

In the London Society for June there is an article on "Flowers and Foreign Flower Fashions," in which the writer describes the floral features of Paris, and gives these hints about flowers for the room:

"I must record the trellises that are covered with growing ivy, and that stand all summer time in front of the empty hearth. In winter, I have seen them moved merely to one of the windows. These long boxes have a trellis attached at the back and ends. A plant or two of ivy is enough to twine over this trellis, and then, through all the season, a succession of flowers is kept up in a way that is most effective, and to me the most unsatisfactory. But then, I can never bear to think that things have no roots when they look to be growing. A range of hyacinth-glasses, however, are in the box. The glasses are, of course, completely concealed by the moss; and in each of these said glasses is a tightly-bound bunch of something—it may be asparagus leaves, as I have described just now, or it may be Japan lilies, or still oftener gladioli. Either of these flowers is perfect for such uses. The tall white lily, also, is exquisite in this way; only, of course, for a drawing-room its perfume is far too powerful, though, when such things are used, as in Paris, to place at the side of altars, nothing can be more lovely than these tall and most pure white lilies.

"The blue Michaelmas daisy comes in well for these stands too; but as it is always well to describe one definite pattern that is known to answer, I made a special note of one both good and attainable. A common green box, like our mignonette boxes (of course this should be lined with zinc, or at least made without holes, the former plan being desirable for the drawing room carpet), about eight inches deep, and say ten wide, a slight cane trellis, looking like rods for basket work, merely stained dark green on the back and ends, coming about as high as an ordinary chimney-piece; ivy trained over the trellis, to cover it a good deal, but by no means thickly, simply to wreath about it, especially at the edges; then the only flowers in this really effective stand were alternate hyacinth-glasses of blue Michaelmas daisies and of scarlet gladioli, with, between them, some pots of fern or grass, or of asparagus leaves. The ivy itself, I was told, had, upon emergencies, been cut from the wood, too, and brought in and put in glasses and trained to look all natural. And, after all, it is well to know this for any quickly got-up decoration, or for a screen to shut off some unused doorway or ugly view at short notice.

"By-the-by, too, at this season, all the trees in fresh leaf may be used just like holly in winter by way of decoration, only by putting the cut end of the branch in a jar with water and charcoal, and then closing the mouth with a lump of Potter's clay. What can be more lovely than horse-chestnut acacia?

"But, in a stand like that which I have described, observe the good management; the tall flowers, not over recherche, being filled up with shrubbery sort of things, in perfect keeping with their style.

"Bunches of holly, also, are remarkably good and effective in all such cases. In fact, for the use of holly one must go to France for a lesson. It comes in at any time, and is used as a brilliant flower; and, indeed, the bright leaves and red berries are such as few flowers can deaden.

"I have seen the boxes just described filled up entirely with the ivy-grown trellis, branches like small shrubs or holly, some tall and tapering, others low and spreading, and some one white flower, generally the single, large-fringed Chinese primroses—these being, however, comparatively few—perhaps three pots only put in amidst the holly, and the effect was perfect—warm, and green, and graceful and distingue—for somehow the holly is very aristocratic, and adapts itself to all circumstances with most perfect ease and grace.

"Much green with a little color is a rule that has a wide reign; and also it is remarkable how rarely one sees one color; but crimson and buff roses, violet and pink, pale pea-green and rose-color, or any of these, with white. This seems the prevailing thing as much in dress as in flowers, and as much in rooms as anywhere. But then, Parisans do compose room, and toilet, and flowers, all as a sort of picture."

LOSSES OF COTTON MILLS.—The cotton mills of New England have generally escaped the great decline in the values of the raw material and cloth without any very serious losses. Almost every company, except those engaged on government contracts, have suffered some loss, but only a few have impaired their capitals or been obliged to suspend their dividends, having provided before hand a sufficient surplus in anticipation of the time of reaction. The heaviest losses which have come to our knowledge are in the Portsmouth Steam Mill and the Globe Mill, and Newburyport, both of which have sunk a large portion of their capital. The stock of the Portsmouth Mill sold about a year ago at eighty dollars for fifty dollars paid and is now down to ten dollars and eleven dollars. The stock of the Globe Mill, which was up to one hundred and twenty-five for one hundred, is now down to about forty. The Naumkeag, Pepperell, and others, have suffered losses, but are not at all crippled in their means, and the value of their stock has not fallen more than ten per cent.

FOREIGN CAPITAL AT THE SOUTH.—A large amount of capital is said to be coming over from England for investment in cotton and tobacco lands at the South. The London Index, the organ of the Southern politicians and of the rebel government, advises English merchants and manufacturers to establish branch houses in the South, and says they will enjoy a great advantage there, and should occupy the ground before Northern cupidity gains possession. It says the heads of hundreds of business houses in the South will be disqualified from pursuing their avocations by the proscription of political offenders, and that the South will prefer that English rather than Northern houses should receive the benefit from the sacrifice of lands and the profits of trade.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1865.

It is difficult to date a letter from anywhere east of the mountains, and not give you news already anticipated by the telegraph or the press, hence eastern letters in western papers are generally superfluous. But you are, fortunately, not compelled to print this, if you find it to be stale.

Judge Kelly, who is a favorite in these parts, has been making another speech in behalf of universal suffrage. He recounted a reminiscence of Boston, where he once saw the sign torn from W. L. Garrison's printing office, and Garrison dragged out for summary punishment by the merchants and clerks of that delectable city, and rescued at the personal peril of the Mayor, who deposited him in the city jail for safe keeping. Garrison's crime was that he dared to maintain the right of free speech, in accordance with the Constitution of Massachusetts and of the United States. Disgusted with Boston, Mr. Kelly came back to the land of Penn, and now Boston is far ahead of what Mr. Garrison was then, and Philadelphia is far behind every other free city, in that she permits in traitorous newspapers free speech against the principles of liberty, and ejects freemen from her public conveyances for having a dark skin.

The reception of General Grant, to be held at the League House to-morrow, is quite the topic of to-day. If the great man is not spoiled by adulation, it will be but a new confirmation of the genuineness of his sterling greatness. I, for one, do not believe it will hurt him. I met him casually in the hall of the hotel to-day. The somewhat tarnished uniform, the unassuming person, and undemonstrative manner, showed that the Missouri farmer, whose modest self-respect would not permit him to resort to the appliances necessary to secure the desired office of county surveyor, is the same man still, and worthily wears his well-earned laurels. He looks like a plain, middle-aged captain of volunteers, promoted from the ranks for hard fighting, and having no ambition save to work in the path of duty. The quick eye of a lady by my side caught sight of the rusty stars and the inevitable cigar, or I should at this moment have been in blissful ignorance of having rubbed against the American "man of destiny." What a glorious encouragement does the success of this great heart give to simple, earnest, devoted work in the duty of the hour, and how it upsets the conventional idea that only the braggart, the pretentious or the impudent can reap the harvest.

I had the pleasure to meet a friend yesterday from Rio Janeiro. It will gratify your Episcopalian readers to know that Bishop Potter spent two weeks there on his way to California, and was thus far wonderfully recruited in health. The Bishop preached in the Protestant Chapel, baptized five children of American residents, and married the son and daughter of two of them. The indications are that the Bishop will be able to reassume charge of the Diocese on his return, and that if more episcopal visitation and oversight is needed in the west he will be abundantly able to give it.

Prof. Agassiz and his party, who went out on the same vessel, rendered the trip agreeable by the interest of his continual scientific researches into the contents of the great deep. Professor A. had at once found his way to the good opinion of the Emperor of Brazil, and was being furnished with all desired facilities for the prosecution of his scientific labors in the interior of the country.

The Commencement exercises of the Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church, are being now held. Yesterday Rev. Phillips Brooks preached the opening sermon, which is said to have been an effort of great brilliance. To-day Rev. Dr. Howe preached a grand discourse, and seven graduates were ordained to the Deaconate, and five deacons were made presbyters.

The disloyal papers in this region, as well as in New York, are vigorous in their laudation of the Irish ingrate Mitchell. McMasters, of the New York Freeman's Journal, calls him "honest John Mitchell," and is very denunciatory of Secretary Stanton for sending him to Fortress Monroe. McMasters did not like his own incarceration when his paper was devoted to the rebel service, and if there is any doubt that he deserved then more than he got, it is taken away by his present defence of Mitchell. One would think these sort of people would tire of firing their paper bullets at the Secretary of War. He is as impervious to them as the iron man in the shooting gallery. As good a shot as Gen. Sherman, can't even make the bell ring. The flattened bullets fall to the ground, but the iron man stands up unhurt. When the history of the slaveholders conquest shall be written, and the last proofs corrected by Truth and Time, three names will stand preeminent, Lincoln—Stanton—Grant. The first is beyond the reach of calumny, and the last two, with their feet upon the necks of the crushed bloodhounds of the rebellion, can afford to disregard the snaps and snarls of the curs which seek revenge for the destruction of their race.

I saw, to-day, in the studio of Mr. Baily, a Philadelphia artist, the model of a monument to Mr. Lincoln, which was intended for Allegheny City. I can conceive of nothing more beautiful and appropriate. On the front is a bas-relief of the Spirit of Liberty extending her protecting arms over a number of human figures of all ages, which are looking up for her protection. Beneath their feet a serpent—the spirit of evil. On the face stands the statue of a negro with freed hands extended and the shackles at his feet. On the right face is America, a female figure, resting with the left hand on a sword, and in the right holding an olive branch. One sees at once that she loves peace, but is ready for war. The olive branch or the sword—it is for the nations to choose which. On the rear is a shield and national emblems, surmounted by the national eagle. On the summit stands a statue of Mr. Lincoln.

The entire monument, except the granite platform on which it stands, is designed to be of bronze—a material most appropriate for such a work anywhere, but especially appropriate to your atmosphere. Efforts are being made to induce the artist to offer his services to the New York Monument Association, or to retain it for the proposed monument in Philadelphia, but he is unwilling to divert it from its original destination. Let me say it is worthy of the best efforts of the admirers of the great man and the great ideas it is meant to commemorate, and if Allegheny County shall erect it within her limits it will always be an object of just pride to her people, and the admiration of strangers. What you do, do quickly, and let the work on your monument be commenced at once. It will require two years to execute the work.

If I ever write you another letter I may make it shorter—if I have less to say. B.

Railway Matters.

We see it stated on the authority of the Titusville Herald, that the Oil Creek Railroad has passed into the hands of of the New York Central Railroad Company, who now have the exclusive control and management of its affairs, and that by this arrangement the Pennsylvania Central lose the right to use the third rail which had been laid for their benefit. It seems as if Philadelphia is to lose a large portion of its oil trade, judging from this transfer.

By the displacement of a rail on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Road, near Worthington, four cars on the Express train were thrown from the track and turned completely over, on Wednesday at 3 o'clock A. M. Two of the coaches were exclusively for ladies, one being a sleeping car, in which the passengers were sound asleep. Only some slight injuries were inflicted. It is said that Conductor Roberts got the overturned cars out of the way, and started the balance of the train, with all the passengers, for Columbus, within fifteen minutes from the time of the accident.

A correspondent of the Cattaraugus Freeman writes from Arcade, concerning the new project of a route from Buffalo to Washington: Some fourteen or fifteen railroad men were here night before last, passing over the line of the proposed road and endeavoring to arouse an interest among the inhabitants sufficient to secure the right of way. They do not ask any other assistance from the towns. The company hold a meeting at Aurora on the 24th or 25th of June, and it is said that work will be commenced on the route by the 1st of July. I saw a map of the route yesterday. Commencing at Buffalo, it uses the Buffalo and Pittsburgh line to Machias, thence down the Allegheny river to Port Allegheny, Pennsylvania, thence southerly by a direct and feasible route to Emporium, Pennsylvania, where it intersects the Philadelphia and Erie Road. By this route it is claimed that the distance from Buffalo to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, etc., is much less than by any present route. The company promise that with the right of way contributed by the towns, they will have the road in running order within a year from the present time.

The following were elected Board of Directors and officers of the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad, at Cleveland, on Wednesday:—John Gardner, Norwalk; James Mason, N. P. Handy, Cleveland; S. M. Young, T. H. Hoag, Toledo; John Newell, D. N. Barney, A. H. Barney and Henry Keep, New York. John Newell was elected President; L. D. Rucker, Superintendent; H. C. Luce, Treasurer; A. L. White, General Freight Agent.

On Thursday there was a conference of leading railroad men and citizens of Iowa with the merchants and capitalists of St. Louis, at the Merchant's Exchange of that city, the object being to consult about railway communication between St. Louis and Iowa.

It is said that one-tenth of the original cost will be required to repair the roads of the South, which will amount to $30,000,000. It is also thought that Northern capitalists would make a speculation in buying up the Southern lines.

General Butler on Army Chaplains.

The following is said to be part of Gen. BUTLER's testimony before the Committee on the Conduct of the War:

"What has been your experience in regard to Chaplains?"

Answer by General BUTLER—"Well, sir, a good Chaplain is a very good thing; but a poor chaplain is as much worse than none at all as you can well conceive. The chaplains, as a rule, in the forces I commanded, were not worth their pay, by any manner of means. I think there should not be more than one chaplain to a brigade, except in one particular case: I am bound to say that I have never seen a Roman Catholic chaplain that did not do his duty, because he was responsible to another power than that of the military. I would not ask for more than one chaplain to a brigade, except in the case of Roman Catholic regiments. In that case there should be a chaplain to a regiment, for they have a great many duties to perform. They have always been faithful, as far as my experience goes............ That is not always the case with other chaplains. I remember running against one young man in one of my regiments, who, from his dress and uniform, I saw must be a chaplain. I said to him, 'You are the chaplain—are you?' 'Yes, sir,' he replied. Yet the last time I had seen him before that he was a journeyman printer!"

This is so manifestly libelous on the whole class and nearly the whole number of Protestant chaplains, that, as a faithful public journalist, we cannot pass it by in silence. Not only is it a palpable reflection on the chaplains, but upon the clergy of every Protestant Church; for, except in the earlier months of the war, no person could be appointed chaplain without good testimonials from the church to which he belonged. And, claiming for ourselves ample opportunities of observation in the army, and an acquaintance with chaplains probably much more extensive and intimate than that of General BUTLER, we unhesitatingly deny the correctness of his sweeping statements against Protestant chaplains. General BUTLER, in the course of his military life, had some collisions with people who were near him, both in and out of the army. He had at least one with a clergyman. Whether this insensibly effected his temper, his opinion, or his speech, we know not. But there is internal evidence, in his statement, of the presence of a strong prejudice, from some cause.

Mr. BUTLER is a lawyer as well as a General. We should like to hear him handling such a piece of evidence before a jury. With what emphasis he would ask why the witnesses did not tell us how many of each kind, which he is so careful to contrast, had been personally known to him? How he would dilate upon the ill concealed bias and partiality of the witness. What a strong point he would make of the illustration the witness gives of the unfaithfulness of Protestant chaplains! "Gentlemen of the jury," he would say, "the witness is horrified by 'running against' a chaplain who had once been a journeyman printer. Gentlemen, FRANKLIN,—B. FRANKLIN, my respected namesake, was a journeyman printer before he was a philosopher. If the witness had met a tanner turned chaplain, or a tailor turned chaplain, honorable parallels might be mentioned, gentlemen, in the army and the State."

General BUTLER's "experience" with chaplains, unless he differs from most other generals, was extremely limited. The soldiers who attend on their ministry, and who, when wounded and sick, partake of their kind offices, are the men to enquire of, if you wish for a correct knowledge of their character and faithfulness. We believe, that for attention to their duties, for intelligence, for gentlemanly demeanor, for sympathy and kindness towards the men of their charge, the chaplains of the army will compare favorably with the military officers, in any department, from the Major General down to the Second Lieutenant. And this is, probably, as true of Major General BUTLER's department as of any other. What he means by Roman Catholic chaplains being responsible to other than military power; by one Protestant chaplain being sufficient for a brigade, while Roman Chatholic regiments require each a chaplain, and by the latter having more duties to perform, we confess ourselves unable to understand. As chaplains, all alike are responsible to the military authority over them, and to no other; as ministers, all are alike responsible to the ecclesiastical bodies with which they are connected; and all are presumed to be conscious of accountability to GOD. As chaplains, too, their duties are alike—preaching, counseling in spiritual matters, attending on the sick and helping the wounded in the field hospital. We have seen Protestant chaplains assiduously engaged in these duties, year in and year out, if Gen. BUTLER never did. And we could name the testimony of scores of officers and thousands of men who would give their "experience" in accordance with ours. Generals have little opportunity of knowing what is going on in regiments and field hospitals. Colonels, surgeons and the soldiers are constantly in the same scenes with the chaplains.

We are sorry that Gen. BUTLER, for whatever cause, should do chaplains and himself so great a wrong as he does in this item of his testimony, so evidently biased, prejudiced and unfair.

Missouri and her Prospects.

This State, of genial climate, of fertile soil and grand dimensions, has been a most unfortunate one, as a commonwealth. Its nativity as a State was clouded with evil auguries—manipulated into the Union by the strategy of the slave-power. Its earlier population was chiefly the overflow of wild frontier people from the old slave States, carrying with them the cherished institution. There was not enough of force and and enterprise to improve the State rapidly. But there was enough of the inherent spirit of slavery to disturb society and to hinder the wholesome immigration which the natural resources of the land invited. Missouri lost character and made enemies by its turbulent and intrusive action toward Kansas, when that State was struggling into free life. When the secession movement was undertaken Missouri office-holders and demagogues, wool-dyed in the slavery system, tried hard to carry the State into the rebellion; and would have succeeded, but for the prompt and vigorous services of the lamented LYON and those brave, loyal men who were associated with him. Although not in the secession, it has abounded with secessionists, and consequently, has been the scene of many conflicts, both in regular and guerrilla warfare, ever since the war began. Violence, robbery and murder have filled the State with alarms and desolations. Over a large portion of it the spirit of slavery and treason has spread with destructive energy, carrying blight and ruin to society.

But the loyal and liberty-loving people of the State have stood firm amid all their terrible trials, and have acted with resolution and courage. They have, by arms and laws, and now by a new constitution, secured liberty to themselves. Under a new regime, the State will have a large and rapid advancement. Her fine soil will be cultivated; her material resources will be developed; her population will be improved and multiplied. The Constitution is replete with wise and beneficent provisions. It takes a long step of advancement, in several respects. Among them we notice the following: It abolishes slavery forever, and establishes the equality of all men, before the law. It declares that the State shall forever remain a member of the American Union. It disfranchises guerrillas, bushwhackers, the members of treasonable secret orders. It provides for a registration of voters. It forbids legislatures making compensation for emancipated slaves. It secures a system of common school education for the people of the State. It prohibits lotteries. It gives the people a direct vote on all constitutional amendments that may be proposed.

This Constitution has, beyond reasonable doubt, been adopted. That shows both the loyalty and the energy of the majority of the people. May they prosper in their new and free condition, under the influence of intelligence and virtue.

The State Prisoners at Fortress Monroe.

JOHN MITCHELL is becoming taciturn. He subsists on army rations. The only reading matter he is furnished with is the Bible and prayer book. He is not allowed to fulminate articles for newspapers. Most of his time is passed in smoking. CLEMENT C. CLAY displays the most philosophic indifference to everything about him. He is pleasant and has given very little trouble. He eats very little and smokes a great deal. JEFF. DAVIS has recovered his health, though he has not yet been put on army rations. Dr. CRAVEN is allowed to prescribe his food. Since his health has recovered he has taken to smoking. He uses an elegant merschaum pipe. No one is allowed to see him. Not even Cabinet officers who have been at the Fortress since his incarceration were permitted to speak with him.

EXPENSIVE SYMPATHY.—The Cologne Gazette remarks that the Parisian bankers who sided with the South, are likely to pay dear for their sympathies. Thus MM. Marouart et Cie, who advanced a considerable sum to Mr. Slidell upon an estate which he possessed in the South, will probably lose it all, as the estate has been confiscated. The amount of sympathy the Parisian bankers will receive in the United States will be about the measure of the profit they will get from the United States through the confiscated property.

PRICE OF MEATS.—In New York the opposition to high prices of meat is taking organized shape by the formation of anti-meat societies. It is believed they will bring the prices down, and a similar movement in regard to other articles of food will follow.

Admiral Dupont.

The death of this distinguished officer, in Philadelphia on Friday last, was announced on Saturday morning. He was of French parentage; his father immigrated to this country about the close of the last century, and settled in Bergen, New Jersey, where in 1803 the Admiral was born. He does not appear to have enjoyed very good advantages for receiving an education in his boyhood. He entered the navy as midshipman at the age of twelve years. There was no field for the exhibition of his talents as a belligerent officer until the Mexican war. When that war commenced he held the rank of Commander, and was placed in active service on the Pacific coast under Commodore STOCKTON. When the rebellion broke out, he held the position of Captain in the navy. He was placed in command of the South Atlantic Blockading Squadron, and after having captured Port Royal, he did good service at other points further South, giving efficiency to the blockade, and doing much damage to the interests of the Rebels. In 1862 he was nominated by the President, and subsequently confirmed, as Acting Rear Admiral, which position he held until the time of his death. Admiral DUPONT has, in addition to his active naval services, been frequently selected by the Government for important temporary positions, connected with the advancement of naval interests. He has always been a faithful and trustworthy officer, and his loss will be deeply deplored by the Government and the public generally.

Pittsburgh and the South.

We understand that the old customers of Pittsburgh in the South are beginning to revisit our city, to "talk trade," and that there is some prospect of a gradual resumption of former business relations. Before the war, our trade with the Southwest, and the entire Mississippi country, was large. According to the ability of that extensive region to pay, the intercourse will be resumed. No part of the South is more barren of nearly everything than the extensive region named. Our manufacturers and dealers are ready as ever to do business on a liberal and sound basis, and in this way do their share at "pacification" and "reconstruction."

OUR FOREIGN TRADE.—Judging from the tone of the circulars sent out by foreign manufacturers and dealers, we infer that, in connection with the loss of the blockade running business, no little disappointment is felt on account of the backwardness of this country to send forward orders for British goods and wares. The French, also, have extensive stocks of silks and fineries, which, however, sell better, but not so rapidly as was expected. This state of things is attributable mainly to the unsettled price of gold here, which renders extensive transactions unsafe.

TWO MEN BURNT TO DEATH IN CLEVELAND.—Two young men were burned to death Saturday morning in Cleveland, in a building on University heights. Their names were JACOB MURLOCK and HARMON BEATTY. They were tailors, and occupied the front part of the building as a shop. Every effort was made to rescue them, but it is thought that the men were early stifled with smoke, which prevented them from either making an outcry, or from attempting to escape.

SANTA ANNA—This veteran Mexican chief, when banished from Mexico by MAXIMILIAN took up his residence at St. Thomas, for the purpose, it is believed, of being near at hand when another revolution takes place in that country. He is warmly in favor of the cause of the North, and thinks we ought to unite to drive the French out of Mexico. He believes the Austro-French empire a temporary affair, and evidently intends to turn up again, and be fore long, in the Halls of the MONTEZUMAS.

PETROLEUM IN CALIFORNIA.—The Registrar of the Humbolt district in California writes to the officials in Washington that extensive discoveries have been made in the vicinity of Cape Mendicinia, California. He withholds such lands from the market, unless otherwise directed by the General Land Office.

CARRIED.—The opponents of the Constitution in St. Louis now generally concede that it is carried; but they declare its provisions in regard to teachers and clergymen cannot be enforced. The Roman Catholics will resist this to the last, the clergymen having south-side sympathies.

FAILURE.—In Washington it is understood the recent attempt of Governor PIERPONT to get the Virginia Legislature together is a failure, in consequence of the want of fixing upon some definite plan of action to be pursued.

BY a private note from Washington, the writer of which has the very best sources of information, we learn that Mr. F. W. SEWARD has so far recovered that he is considered out of danger.

Mr. Lincoln on Negro Suffrage.

Chief Justice CHASE has caused two letters to be published, written by himself from Baltimore to President LINCOLN, on the subject of negro suffrage, a few days before his death. In the first, dated April 11th, 1865, he says, speaking of reconstruction:

"The easiest and safest way seems to me to be the enrollment of the loyal citizens without regard to complexion, and encouragement and support of them in the reorganization of State Governments under constitutions securing suffrage to all citizens of proper age and unconvicted of crime. This, you know, has long been my opinion. It is confirmed by observation more and more.

"This way is recommended by its simplicity, facility, and, above all, justice. It will be hereafter counted equally a crime and a folly if the colored loyalists of the rebel States are left to the control of restored rebels, not likely in that case, to be either wise or just, until taught both wisdom and justice by new calamities."

He thinks that where Conventions are called for the formation of new Constitutions, the members should be elected by the loyal citizens without regard to color. The second letter is dated April 12th, and appears to have been suggested by a speech made by the President, the day before, in which the subject of reconstruction was indirectly entered upon. He objects to the restriction of participation in reorganization to persons having the qualifications of voters, under the laws in force just before the rebellion.

"The first order" he writes, "ever issued for enrollment, with a view to reorganization, went to Gen. Shepley, and directed the enrollment of all loyal citizens; and I suppose that since the opinion of Attorney General Bates, no one connected with your Administration has questioned the citizenship of free colored men, more than that of free white men."

Mr. CHASE enters fully into the question, cocerning his often expressed views, and concludes thus:

"Once I should have been, if not satisfied, partially, at least, contented with suffrage for the intelligent and those who have been soldiers: now I am convinced that universal suffrage is demanded by sound policy and impartial justice. I shall return to Washington in a day or two, and perhaps it will not not be disagreeable to you to have the whole subject talked over."

The conversation proposed never took place; the last letter was received by Mr. LINCOLN the day before his assassination, and at a cabinet meeting on that day, the views expressed in it were favorably brought forward, it is said, by the President.

TENNESSEE.—The election for members of Congress takes place in this State in August. It is apparent that the line between out-and-out Union men and Copperheads will be closely drawn in some districts. So far as ascertained, the following are the candidates:

First (Greenville) District—Col. N. G. Taylor, Col. J. K. Miller, both of Carter township.
Second (Knoxville) District—Col. L. C. Houck, of Anderson; Col. R. K. Bird, of Roane.
Third (Chattanooga) District—J. R. Hood, of Hamilton; Col. W. B. Stokes, of De Kalb.
Fourth (Shelbyville and Murfreesboro) District—Edmund Cooper.
Fifth (Nashville) District—Judge M. M. Brien, W. R. McDougal, S. J. Carter, all of Davidson.
Sixth (Columbia) District—No announcements.
Seventh (Etheridge's old) District—D. B. Thomas, of Benton.
Eighth (Memphis) District—John Bullock.

A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT.—Mr. Robert Dale Owen has addressed to the President a long letter, reminding Mr. Johnson—

1—Of the days in which they were Congressmen together.
2—That there is an aspect of the negro suffrage question that has attracted less attention than it merits.
3—Goes into an elaborate statistical statement of the proportions of white and colored representations.
4—Controverts the ideas of different political status for different colors, and enunciates the axiom that all the political power which is withheld from the emancipated slave is gained by the Southern white.
5—Thenceforward plead with great force for the entranchisement of the freedmen.

Mr. Owen in this lecture is, even for him, unusually clear and vigorous in his argument.

THE destitution of some of the Southern planters, formerly very wealthy, is illustrated by this fact: A certain Baker Wynne lately sent word to his former slaves, who are working his plantation for their own benefit, that he would feel obliged "if some of them would save a barrel of flour for him, when he should come home, which will be next autumn, if he can raise money enough for the journey." Another case more pitiable than the above is given: A freedman, who had lately seen his mistress, made the following report of her condition: "The last time I saw my missus, she was picking up chips and cryin'. She said her niggers had all gone off, and she would have to cook for herself, and she did not know how."

WANT TO BE HELD.—Prentice says that the anti-amendment people seem terribly apprehensive, that, unless restrained by the Constitution, they will inevitably marry niggers. We have all heard of the noisy fellow, who, getting in a quarrel, cried out to those around him, "Hold me, gentlemen, or I shall strike him." Each anti-amendment man seems calling aloud in a similar spirit, "Hold me, dear Constitution, or I shall marry a nigger as sure as you are born." But we propose that the Constitution shall stand off and see fair play.

General Intelligence.

Communication between Richmond and Washington, by way of the Fredericksburg railroad, is about to be resumed.

A lion-tamer, while whipping a refractory lioness, in Terre Haute, last week, had several fingers gnawed off.

Two small boys in Chicago were garroted and robbed last Friday of their pocket money, by five juvenile ruffians, fifteen years old.

Salmon, usually considered an expensive luxury, is now cheaper in Boston than first-class beef.

The New Orleans Times learns that Joe Shelby, with 500 of his guerrillas, has gone to Mexico to join Maximilian.

The Government intends to retain most of the army wagons for future use, storing them in immense fire-proof buildings, to be especially erected at various points.

There have been large floods in Western Missouri, washing away the Grand River bridge of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, at Utica, Missouri.

A bible was stolen from the pulpit of the Universalist church in Titusville last week. It had been used by the society a long time, and its loss is much deplored.

There has been a great flood in the Lower Des Moines river, Iowa. The town of Eddysville was inundated, and a hundred families were compelled to move from their homes. Crops to considerable value were destroyed.

A fresh impetus has recently been given to the gold mining excitement in Australia by reported extraordinary successes. One company recently struck a lead which yields at the rate of a million and a quarter dollars per year.

A young woman in Henry county, Missouri, not yet sixteen, is cultivating sixteen acres of corn this season. She does all the work herself, including plowing and hoeing. She has undertaken this masculine job to obtain money to educate herself.

A lager beer brewery at Ottawa, Illinois, belonging to Bicksenstein & Hollstein, together with three hundred barrels of beer, a large quantity of grain and malt, and the fixtures of the establishment, were seized last week by the Revenue officers.

About seven hundred soldiers' orphans have been admitted into the various schools of the State, in accordance with the law providing for their education. So far, fourteen academies and high schools, in different parts of the State, have been selected by the State Superintendent for their reception.

A restaurant keeper in Lancaster, was surprised one morning lately at finding a rat flopping about in a lively style, among a lot of clams he had on hand. The rat had a mind to make its breakfast upon clam's meat, when the clam shut up, catching the rat by the foot and holding it fast.

A young man living in St. Clair street, Cleveland, shot his mother Friday afternoon, causing her instant death. She was upbraiding her son because he had lately married against her wishes, when in a fit of rage he drew a revolver and shot her through the head. The young man had recently returned from the army.

At a wedding in Portland, Maine, the other day, the overjoyed bridegroom partook so freely of whisky that on his way home he became sleepy and took lodgings under a wagon, where the police at midnight found the bride sitting on the ground with her husband's head in her lap, looking anything but pleased with the turn affairs had taken.

A young man was married at the Ludlow jail New York, on Tuesday, who was recently sentenced by the United States Courts to a term of five years at Sing Sing, to a young woman who had given him her affections in more prosperous days. The groom left the next morning for Sing Sing without the bride, so the honeymoon lasted only a brief period.

Late advices from Forts Wadsworth and Abercrombie represents everything quiet on the frontier. It is not likely that there will be any more Indian raids this season, and if the plans laid out by the military authorities are well executed, there will soon be an end to the Indian trouble in Minnesota.

As a proof of the commercial value and importance of the new aniline colors, the product of coal oil, it is stated that a single French company has manufactured $1,200,000 worth of them in the past two years. They have supplanted quite a number of substances employed as dyes from time immemorial. Some of the aniline colors, especially aniline blue, are sold for their weight in silver, even as in old times the Tyrian purple was sold for its weight in gold.

It is stated that a Canadian farmer named Crowley, naar Peterboro, lately opened an old well and sent one of his sons down to measure the depth, but remaining a long time, another son was dispatched to see what was the matter. He, too, not returning as speedily as was conceived proper, was followed by a third and then a fourth, until all four were in the well; when to the utter anguish and dismay of the poor father, it was discovered that they had each fallen a victim to foul air. The four were taken out dead, every effort to restore life being fruitless.

Personal.

Senator Sherman is to be orator at Warren, Trumbull county, on the 4th of July.

Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, stands by the policy of the president in regard to the suffrage issue.

George W. Sanders, Beverly Tucker, and other rebels in Canada, are reported to have been in Windsor, opposite Detroit, last week.

Mr. Henry Heyman, of Lynne Township, Ohio, sheared this season, from a two year old ram, a fleece of wool that weighed nineteen pounds after it was washed.

It is now stated that Mrs. Lincoln has accepted, by letter, the proposition of the association for building the monument at Oak Ridge and giving her and her family the use of the lot as a burial place.

The recent appointment of a near relative of General Sherman to a lucrative position by Secretary Stanton, is said to have been aimed as a conciliatory shot at the General, though it may fail of its effect.

A rebel officer states, that Trusten Polk has gone to Cuba, that Waldo P. Johnson and Thos. C. Johnson were in Virginia a short time ago, and that Monroe M. Parsons has gone to Brazil. These and a few other prominent Missourians did not think it safe to return home, as they anticipated sharing the fate of Jeff. Davis.

Thursday evening last, an ovation was given to Gen. Frank P. Blair, at the Lindell Hotel in St. Louis. Some three hundred guests, without regard to party, were present. The General made an eloquent speech, full of interesting reminiscence, and sustaining strongly the President's policy of reconstruction.

Brigham Young has "counselled" all the faithful of Mormon City to shoot down any "Gentile" seen walking with a Mormon female. Brigham's peculiar institution, which gives him more wives than the interests and customs of society and the laws of civilized life allow, will one day be as much trouble to him and the Government as slavery has been.

Edwin Booth is said to be about to marry a young lady of Philadelphia, the daughter of a well known performer of that city. His re-appearance on the stage in the future is uncertain. He has a little daughter, a beautiful child of five years, bright and full of fire, who already promises a pre-disposition for the stage. This Booth dreads, and may entirely withdraw from the stage in consequence.

Captain Overton Carr, of Pennsylvania, who has been under arrest at the Washington Navy Yard for the past four months, has been released. The cause of his arrest has never transpired, nor is it known whether there will be any court martial in his case. Captain Carr is the son-in-law of the late Judge Wilkins, of Pittsburgh. He succeeded Captain Lee—brother of the rebel General Robert E. Lee—as commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Captain Lee was afterwards assigned to the command of the rebel squadron on the James river.

Our readers will remember that a $1,000 dressing case was presented to the Sanitary Fair at Chicago, to be given to the prettiest girl in the city, the fact to be determined by votes at one dollar. The result was announced last Thursday by the committee. The whole number of votes was 3,471; of which Miss Anna S. Wilson received 1,073; Miss Mattie Hill, 1,068; Miss Amelia Carley, 422; blanks, 300; scattering, 608. It was agreed by the committee, before counting the votes, "that no report should be made of the votes cast for any lady where the number cast was less than one hundred."

At the recent commencement of Shurtleff College, the degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon Oliver O. Howard, Major General, U. S. A. General Howard was graduated first from Bowdoin College, and afterward from the military Academy at West Point. He was for some time instructor in mathematics at West Point, at which time he also prosecuted a liberal course of study in sacred theology. In literature, science, Christian theology, and the art of war, General Howard, though yet young, stands among the first of our nation.

There is now but little doubt that Smith J. Eastman left for Europe on Saturday last. He engaged passage in the name of H. S. Roberts on the Bremen steamer New York, and paid one hundred dollars extra in gold for the First Engineer's room, all the regular berths in the steamer being taken. His baggage was sent on board, but he was not seen about the steamer, and he might easily have kept close and out of the way. It is stated that he had also engaged passage on the City of Washington. It is probable that he left in one steamer and his storage man in the other.

THE DESTRUCTION OF IDAHO CITY BY FIRE.—Idaho City, Idaho Territory, as before announced, was completely destroyed by fire, the work of incendiaries, on the night of the 18th ultimo. As the town was composed almost entirely of buildings made of pine boards, when the flames got fairly started they spread with great rapidity. During the continuance of the conflagration bands of thieves carried on a wholesale robbery. The loss is estimated at over a million dollars.

VIRGINIA OPINION OF BUCHANAN.—The Petersburg News, of Monday, says that "James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, is in a greater degree responsible for the late rebellion than any man that lives."

All the rebel prisoners in Camp Douglas, at Chicago, have been sent South, except a few in the hospitals who are in too feeble a condition to be able to make the journey.

The Late Ohio State Convention.

The Cincinnati Commercial asserts that "the actual question before the convention was whether an expression should be given in favor of or against negro suffrage. It presented itself distinctly, included in the inevitable proposition to indorse the Administration. The Administration of President JOHNSON could not be unequivocally approved without disapproving of the radical programme of insisting upon negro suffrage at once and at all hazards. Everybody understood this before the convention assembled. There was not a primary meeting in the State where the matter was not considered."

The Commercial asserts, also, that "out of four hundred delegates there were twenty-three who might fairly be classed as radicals, and several of these could hardly be named "earnest men.""

The following "inside view" of the convention is given by the Commercial:

Gentlemen of radical tendencies, with a propensity to enlist under the banner of Mr. Ashley and proceed summarily to break down the President, were rather conserved than otherwise when they heard the news of the action of the army delegates, who unanimously adopted a resolution instructing their representatives in the Committee on Resolutions to insist upon an unequivocal indorsement of the Administration. There were no words wasted in this resolution of the soldiers. To instruct to insist upon that which was unequivocal meant business. It meant, too, that which we have been telling the people for some time, that the fighting men who had conquered the South, were not in favor of reconstructing the Southern States upon the basis of negro suffrage. The soldiers who have been at the front, may not be educated up as fast as some of those who have not kept their company may desire; but there they are, and they have spoken for themselves.

The sessions of the Committee on Resolutions were not especially harmonious. The debate that was restrained in the Convention broke out in the committee-room, and there was a free and emphatic exchange of views. The army delegates were quite peremptory, and it is even complained they were a little rough, in obeying the instructions to insist upon unequivocally backing up Andrew Johnson. The representatives of the Western Reserve had a resolution which they were prepared to stand and die for, pronouncing the times exigent and propitious, for the taking of an "advanced step"—and the advanced step meant negro suffrage—suffrage North and South, and especially the latter, and that right away. For a time, it seemed that if the advanced step could not be got into the platform, the committee would disagree, and two reports would be presented to the Convention, and the cry would be havoc, and the dogs of war would slip. Fortunately every body was prepared to indorse the Declaration of Independence, and the unity of the party was maintained.

"We must remark, however, that, though the radicals made but a slender showing in the Convention, there was no lack of the deepest anti-slavery feeling in it, and that few were found who did not freely admit the unreasonableness of the prejudice against the negro, and express a strong desire that it should be eradicated. It does not follow—though some of our cotemporaries exhaust themselves and the patience of their readers in trying to make it appear that it does—that a sincere anti-slavery man must jump whenever an 'advanced step' is suggested, by any one who mistakes the gnawings of the maggot of vanity for the pangs of conviction, and is persuaded, whenever he has a notion, that he has a mission also. One may be an Abolitionist now without becoming an impracticable. There is not only no necessity, but no excuse longer that they should be identical.

The sober masses of the people may move slowly. It is not unknown that great bodies generally do so. But they will move surely, and thereby make haste. The business view of the case at Columbus, that ruled the action of the Convention, was that we should expend our strength, not in seeking wildly to do all things desirable, suddenly, not in dissensions about theories; not in climbing the centuries, and becoming distracted about the issues of the future, but in accomplishing the greatest attainable good. That is the common sense of it, and the application of common sense to public affairs is statesmanship.

RAREY IS COMING!

The Renowned Innovator and World Renowned Tamer of

WILD AND VICIOUS HORSES,

JOHN S. RAREY,

Will visit PITTSBURGH on JUNE 29TH and 29TH, where he will exhibit at LAFAYETTE HALL, and deliver a series of Celebrated Lectures, in which he will fully set forth his peculiar and humain method of training Horses. These lectures will be accompanied with practical illustrations of the method, when it will be made evident to the audience with what wonderful facility the most obstreperous animals can, by his kind yet determined system, be completely subdued and made subservient to the will of the master. Mr. Rarey has appeared before many of the crowned heads of Europe, and no verbal description can convey an adequate idea of Mr. Rarey's method of treating horses. It must be seen to be appreciated. The exhibition will take place at LAFAYETTE HALL, on WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY EVENINGS, June 28th and 29th. There will be a MATINEE on THURSDAY AFTERNOON, at 3 o'clock. Doors open at 2 o'clock. There will be accommodations for ladies. Tickets for sale at Kleber's, 122 Wood street, Mellor's, Wood street, or Pittock's, Fifth street, opposite the Postoffice.

PITTSBURGH, June 21st, 1865.

Having been instructed by the Comptroller of the United States Currency that it will be impossible for him to complete the arrangement for the increase of capital of this Bank, as first authorized, beyond one-half the amount contemplated ($400,000), owing to the apportionment to Pennsylvania being already more than absorbed, Stockholders are hereby notified that Twenty Dollars, on one-half of the shares of new stock subscribed will, by direction of said Comptroller, be refunded, on application at the Bank, thus reducing new stock to one-half the shares already subscribed for. No further installments on the balance of the new stock will be required. The capital of the Bank, therefore, will be reduced from the contemplated sum of One Million Dollars to Eight Hundred Thousand.

United States 7-30 LOAN!

THIRD SERIES.

$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent.

GOLD BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a handsome premium and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven-Thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. currency. This is

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET,

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the great

Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and Directors.

A LIFE.

Like one who looks on troubled lakes,
When all the rippled water wakes,
And writhes like shifting, shining snakes,
And, shivered even while begun,
Afar below a slanting sun
Brief lines of wrinkled silver run;

So look I o'er the past to-night,
When many shining lines of light
In darkness break and reunite,
Below my life's descending sun,
Far from the shore where life begun,
Near that where mortal life is done.

A child I sit at nature's feet,
And countless questionings repeat,
And she is dumb when I entreat;
Yet if I dare myself to trust,
And solve her riddle as I must,
How soon my face is in the dust!

I learn for every love we know,
And lose, the bending sky below,
A ghost will go where'er we go;
Their shapeless shadows in our eye,
Their hollow tones in every sigh,
They haunt us—haunt us till we die.

Some flowers have blossomed by my way,
Some friends have met me day by day,
Yet when I need them, where are they?
For all the good these hands have sown,
For all the hope this heart hath known,
What have I now to call my own?

Some vain regrets for vanished days,
A crown of thorns instead of bays,
And little care for blame or praise;
And soon a chamber six feet long,
Above my breast a sparrow's song,
And round my head a careless throng.

But ah, when pain shall be no more,
When wrong and hate at last are o'er,
Then, weary heart, if not before,
Shall ever haunting shape unfold,
Like German Schlemihl's when he sold,
His shadow for a flood of gold.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

PURE WATER—HEALTH OF STOCK, &C.

Foul water is the fruitful source of unthrift and disease in animals, besides, it is almost constantly operating, and in time will produce effects not perceptible at first.

"That farmer who has provided for his barnyard a never failing supply of good water, and an arrangement by which it is brought into the troughs or tubs without pumping or drawing, has a convenience, the value of which is not likely to be over-estimated; but it is a matter of no small importance that it be given to the stock fresh and pure. Because animals drink from a filthy trough or a muddy or stagnant pool with apparent relish, it does not follow that their sense of taste is of low order and cannot appreciate good feeding. Necessity too often compels them to drink anywhere, and whatever they can find. Long continued habit deadens or perverts the taste. But animals with unvitiated taste left free to choose for themselves, will find the purest water as quickly as the sweetest grass; especially is this true of the horse. Some are naturally very fastidious about both food and drink, and they often suffer from thirst rather than drink from a vessel or at a well they dislike. Some men entrusted with the care of stock, seeing a horse tasting and sipping, or playing, as they imagine, say he is not dry, or is whimsical, and bring him back to his stall, there to remain till thirst compels him to drink. Thus a real cruelty is ignorantly practised against a dumb beast, when a few moments' attention would discover and remove the trouble. Fresh, pure water means more than simply water free from sticks, dirt, or substances which are readily detected by the eye. Water exposed in shallow vessels to the atmosphere during warm weather, quickly loses its fresh and sweet taste. Should it remain in a stable twenty-four hours, it becomes undrinkable from having absorbed the impurities of the air. Ammonia, carbonic acid, and all the gases escaping in the stable are absorbed rapidly in large quantities by water. During hot weather these gases are always largely present, even in well regulated barns, and a tub of water exposed to the air in the stable yard, or cellar, soon becomes charged with them, and is unfit for any animal to drink. Besides being of a disagreeable taste, it becomes slightly aperient.

FIRE PROOF SHINGLES.

A writer in the Boston Cultivator says he had always noticed that the staves of an old soap barrel, or pork tub, made very poor kindling wood, and so he argued that potash and salt would tend to keep his roof from kindling. Being a blacksmith this was a matter of some importance. So, in preparing his shingles he took half a bushel of lime, half a bushel of refuse salt, and five pounds of potash, with water enough to slake the lime and dissolve the alkali and salt. He mixed these up in an old trough or box. Then he set a bundle of shingles into the mixture, nearly up to the bands, leaving them soaking for full two hours. Then he turned over the bunch and put in the other side for the same length of time. As exposure to rain and sunshine will in time take out the strength of this mixture, it should be applied fresh once in three or four years.

SOLUTION OF BONES BY ACID.

"Verdant Farmer" asks how to dissolve in oil of vitrol. It is rather a difficult thing to dissolve bones well. It is best not to do it in a hurry. Sledge up (down?) the bones as small as you can conveniently, put them into a half-hogshead tub (made of an oil cask, filling it half full; wet them with water so as to moisten the whole mass, and leave it a day or two, stirring to make all moist. Then take of oil of vitrol, about half the weight of bones, dilute it by pouring it carefully into an equal quantity of water, or more—it will become very hot and may spatter) and pour this upon the bones. Stir thoroughly and often—daily for a week, mashing and breaking the lumps. Add more water if necessary, to be able to stir the whole mass, and finally dry off by addition of bone dust, saw dust, coal ashes, dry leached ashes, plaster or muck. If big pieces of undecomposed bone be found, rake them out. This drying operation is best done on an earth floor.

MIXING OF PLANTS.

According to the laws of plant life, as we now understand them, admixture of different kinds of nearly related plants can only take place through the seed. That the fruit which encloses the seed may be changed by cross impregnation is quite probable, but it is not proven. Carrots and beets may be raised for seed in close proximity to ruta-bagas, or any other turnips, without the slightest chance of any change from this cause, although the turnips or the other vegetables may deteriorate, for the reason that the plants were not well grown. As to the question of potatoes mixing in the hill, we have many assertions that they will do so, but no proof, and we should require evidence, such as would convict a man of murder, before we could be convinced of the truth of the statement. That potatoes may vary, and that a colored variety may produce tubers partly white, or a white variety yield those having colored markings, we can readily admit, but instead of attributing it to any influence of mingling sorts, we should rather ascribe it to the breaking out of some latent peculiarity. We have seen one branch of a grape vine produce leaves mottled, and margined with white, and so with other plants, and see no reason why, under favoring circumstances, potatoes, which are merely branches peculiarly developed, should not sport as well.

RECEIPTS.

BREAD WITHOUT CRUST.—The housewife who would bake her bread or buscuit without a dry, hard crust, can do so very readily. Just before placing the bread in the oven, she has only to rub its surface with butter or lard. This will close the pores, prevent the escape of the gas which is produced by the yeast, and the escape of the steam which is produced by the moisture of the heated loaf. Bread thus baked will be almost crustless.

RYE DROP CAKES.—To one pint of sour or butter-milk, add two eggs, a teaspoonful of soda, a little salt and rye meal, sufficient to make a batter that will spread a little, but not run. Drop in muffin-rings with a spoon. For baking they will require twice the time of common griddle cakes. They are also nice baked in cups about fifteen minutes.

ENGLISH EVERTON TAFFY.—Two lbs. brown sugar, one-half lb. butter, one wine glass of vinegar and water mixed; boil these half an hour. Then try it with a steel in cold water; if it will slip off and break brittle, pour it into pans to cool.

COWS LEAKING MILK.

The family cow will not unfrequently come home at night from the rich pasture with milk streaming from one or more teats. This is particularly the case with easy milkers. Having such a cow, and not fancying the loss of a quart or two each day, we applied collodion (liquid cuticle, obtained at the druggists,) to the end of the teat, which effected a perfect cure. The protection retained the milk, but gave way to a firm pressure of the teat with the hand. In this case a single application sufficed, but great milkers may need two or three coatings at intervals, before the orifice is sufficiently closed.

ITALIAN QUEEN BEES.

Italian workers are marked by three bright yellow, or golden bands; a less number indicates impurity. The worker progeny of an Italian queen that has met a native drone, are by no means uniform in appearance; some are black like the common bee; many are marked like full blood Italians, while others exhibit only one or two bands of yellow. I once owned a half-blood queen, a cross between an Italian queen and a native drone, which produced workers, all of which were bright and uniform in marking, but the third band was wanting. No reliance is to be placed on the appearances of queens or their drone progeny; even the best-bred queens vary greatly in brightness, and the drone progeny of a queen may be pure Italians while her worker progeny are only half-blood. See article on queen bees in the Ohio Farmer of April 1.

BEAUTIFUL EXPERIMENTS.

We find in an exchange the following description of two beautiful experiments:

Fill a wide mouthed glass jar with water, and cover it over with a piece of "foundation," (the ladies will understand this,) cover that over with a layer of peas, pressing it down so that the peas will lay in the water. They will then swell and sprout, the roots growing down into the water, their fine fibres presenting a beautiful appearance. Set this in a window and vines will grow up, which can be conducted to the sill. The whole is very handsome.

If an acorn be suspended by a piece of thread, to within half an inch of some water, contained in a hyacinth glass, and so permitted to remain without being disturbed, it will in a few months burst and throw a root down into the water, and shoot upward its tapering stem, with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak tree, growing this way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.
THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.
IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD apearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. NOTICE.
Sale of Army Mules.
QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28, 1865.
Many thousands of Mules are being disposed of at Washington.
The sales will continue until the number of animals is reduced in proportion to the reduction of the armies, now going on rapidly.
There are in the Armies of the Potomac, of the Tennessee, and of Georgia, probably Four Thousand of the finest six-mule teams in the world.
Many of them were bought at the beginning of the war, as young mules, accompanied the armies in all their marches and camps, and are thoroughly broken, hardened by exercise, gentle and familiar, from being so long surrounded by the soldiers.
The whole South is stripped of farming stock, and the North also has suffered from the drain of animals, taken to supply the armies.
These animals are sold at public auction; they will not bring anything like their true value; and such opportunities for farmers to get working animals to stock their farms, and for drovers and dealers in stock to make good speculations, by purchasing and disposing of them in the South, will never occur again.

MEDICAL.

SPEERS' SAMBURG WINE,
PURE, AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO GRAPE,
FOR PHYSICIANS' USE,
For FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS & INVALIDS.
EXCELLENT WINE FOR FEMALES.
Every family at this season should use the SAMBURG WINE, celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A TONIC it has no equal, causing an appetite and building up the system, being entirely a pure wine of a most valuable grape.
AS A DIURETIC it imparts a healthy action of the Glands, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S WINE is a pure article from the Juice of the Port Grape, possessing medical properties superior to any other wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children. Try it once, and you will not be deceived.
☞ Be sure the signature of ALFRED SPEER is over the cork of each bottle.
Sold by N. McCLARREN & Co., JOS. FLEMMING FRED. BRAUN, ALFRED J. RANKIN, and J. M FULTON. In Allegheny, by GEO. A. KELLY & Co. and S. R. CRAIG, and by all first class dealers in surrounding towns, who also sell the CASTELLA PORT BRANDY, a choice old article imported only by Mr. SPEER, direct from the vaults of Oporto. Trade supplied by B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S SON & Co., and by A. SPEER, at his Vineyard, New Jersey. Principal Office, 208 Broadway, New York. 1y-staw.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

FOR RENT—
To one or two men a Furnished or unfurnished Room. Enquire at No. 30 THIRD STREET. je23-2t.

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT—For sale, that beautiful Homestead, of the late Colonel MORGAN ROBERTSON, of Pittsburgh, containing 187 acres, a large portion rich river bottom, with about 30 acres containing the best Youghiogheny Coal, and some 50 acres of hill land heavily timbered, and the balance under cultivation. The improvements in part consist of a good DOUBLE BRICK HOUSE, a large Barn and Out-Houses, a never-failing Well, an Orchard of the best varieties of Fruit Trees, now in bearing; also, two Tenant Houses, &c. This Farm lies upon the bank of the Monongahela River, fourteen miles from Pittsburgh, and offers peculiar facilities for the Mining, loading and shipping of Coal, for building all kinds of Water Craft, for the most convenient and profitable disposition of the Timber and other products of the land. The whole is offered for sale on most advantageous terms.
For particulars apply to
JOSEPH DILWORTH, Esq.,
Of Dilworth, Porter & Co., or
THOS. J. KEENAN, Esq.,
my19tf Attorney at Law, Pittsburgh.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN LOTS FOR SALE.—A portion of the estates of JOHN HERRON, Esq., deceased, adjoining Fort Herron, has been laid out in lots of various sizes, from one-fourth to one and a half acres each, with wide streets (40 feet) and is now ready for sale. This property is in one of the most eligible locations around the city. The air being pure, free from the smoke and soot arising from the vast consumption of coal in the city, renders the location naturally healthy, and having extended views of the river and surrounding country, makes the property more desirable. Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. Lots will be sold singly or in numbers. The plan of lots and prices can be seen at the office of
W. C. AUGHINBAUGH,
ju5-tf Attorney, NO. 87 Diamond st., Pittsburgh.

VALUABLE MANUFACTURING PROPERTY FOR SALE.—A manufacturing property situate in Pitt Township, adjoining the city line, opposite the Copper Works, Ninth Ward, having a river front of 240 feet by 240 feet on Taylor street, on which there is a substantial three story brick building, 40 by 100 feet, Engine House and sheds, all in good condition. This is one of the best locations on the river for manufacturing purposes, and will be disposed of upon very liberal terms. Apply at the Real Estate and Insurance office of
G. S. BATES,
my13 Butler st., near Allen, Lawrenceville.

FOR SALE
Two three-story and one two-story Brick Dwellings Nos. 1 and 3 Pennsylvania Avenue, within one square of the Court House; each twenty-four feet front and substantially built in the best style, with all the modern improvements and conveniences, as balconies, gas, hot and cold water, &c., &c. Also, attached to the drum a 4 foot cog-wheel, fire grating, heater with worm safety valve; blower, frame bed for engine and wheel, all in excellent condition. Inquire at 113 Third street. je6-tf

A NEAT COUNTRY SEAT FOR SALE, containing 10 acres, neatly enclosed with board fence, all under cultivation, from 6 to 7 acres planted in Fruit of the very best selections. Also a great variety of small Fruit, Shade and Ornamental Trees. The place is watered by two never failing springs, situated 4 miles from the city, 1½ miles from Laughlin's Station, opposite to the late Judge Fulward's place. The buildings are a neat 2 story dwelling, stable and carriage house, etc. Possession can be given at once. Apply to
B. McLAIN & CO.,
je23 No. 102 Fourth street.

PUBLIC SALE OF STOCK.—Notice to stockholders of Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company and others interested:
WHEREAS, In pursuance of acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved April 25th 1852, and March 22d, 1860, the entire stock of the Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company was pledged and hypothecated for the payment of certain certificates of loan issued by authority of said acts of Assembly, which certificates fell due on the first day of May last, and yet remain unpaid.
Now this is to notify all persons that the entire stock of the said Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company, except such as may be relieved by payment of its proper proportion of said debt before the day of sale, will be exposed to sale at public outcry at the house of Frederick Garrow, in Bakerstown, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, on SATURDAY, 8TH DAY OF JULY NEXT,
at eleven o'clock, A. M., of said day. The stock will be offered in lots to suit bidders, and purchasers will be entitled to certificates of stock vested in them the same rights and franchises as were vested in the holders of such stock immediately before such sale.
Any stockholder may relieve his stock from sale by paying to James Breslin, Treasurer, before the day of sale, one dollar and thirty cents on each share of stock owned. The capital stock of the company is 3,300 shares of $25 each. The debt is $4,150, which includes all the liabilities of the company.

CITY MATTERS.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—The Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association will meet in Meadville on the 1st of August, and continue in session three days.

FURLOUGH FOUND.—A note book containing the furlough of Martin Smith, a member of Co. D, 193d Regiment, was found in Birmingham on Saturday, which the owner can recover by calling at this office.

ARM BROKEN.—A little daughter of Dr. Weyman of Allegheny, was thrown from a buggy yesterday, on Ohio street, and had her arm broken. She sustained no other injuries.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—The Union County Executive Committee met at the office of Messrs. Marshall & Brown, on Saturday morning, and organized by electing Dr. W. J. Gilmore Chairman, and R. W. Thomas and Wm. Anderson Secretaries.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS WANTED.—Discharged soldiers who may want situations at farming may obtain them by calling at the office of the Sanitary Commission, 59 Fourth street. Fifteen or twenty farm hands are wanted immediately. Carpenters are also in demand.

OBITUARY.—Thos. Sill Chase, a son of Hon. Joseph L. Chase, died at Titusville, Pa., on Thursday last. Mr. Chase learned the printer's art in this city, and in 1854 was editorially connected with the Steubenville Herald, and subsequently conducted the Potter County Journal. Lately he has been a resident of Titusville, where he held the position of notary public.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY.—The rooms of the Young Men's Library Association having been closed for renovation, will be re-opened this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Five hundred new and attractive books have just been placed on the shelves, and, with the recent improvements in the fixtures of the room, will render the library a pleasant place of resort. The public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.—The examinations in this institution commenced on last Thursday, and will be resumed this morning at nine o'clock. This evening, at 7½ o'clock, a lecture will be delivered in the College Chapel, by Rev. Erwin House, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The friends of education are invited to be present.

NAVIGATION SUSPENDED.—The following dispatch explains itself:

STEUBENVILLE, June 24.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

The water-way of the channel-span of the bridge across the Ohio river at Steubenville will be entirely obstructed on and after Monday, the 26th instant.

THOS. L. JEWETT, President.

FIRE ON MARKET STREET.—On Saturday evening, about half-past eight o'clock, a fire broke out in the drying-room of Messrs. John Auth & Co.'s tobacco manufactory, No. 26 Market street, but the flames were speedily extinguished by the steamers. The damage sustained by the building was slight, but the stock was considerably injured by water. The building adjoining, occupied by Mr. J. C. Buffum as a bottling establishment, was also slightly injured.

SENTENCES.—On Saturday, Mrs. Judy McFadden was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs, by Judge Mellon, for illegal liquor selling, and fifty dollars in another case by Judge Stowe. Patrick McNally, of the Eighth Ward, for selling liquor, was let off on payment of costs. The same disposition was made in the case of Jacob Trax, of McCandless township, the licenses of the parties having run out only a day or two before renewal.

STATEMENT.—In our Criminal Court report last week, in the case of Maria Bowden, charged with the larceny of a shawl, the reporter should have stated that Mrs Bowden had some fourteen witnesses by whom she proved she was the owner and possessor of the shawl long before the date of its alleged theft. Mrs. Bowden is a respectable widow, having lost her husband, and also a son, in the army, and the charge against her, as the verdict of not guilty proved, was unfounded.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday, an accident of a distressing nature occurred at the rope works of Messrs. Marshall, Fulton & Bollman, at M'Keesport. A returned soldier named Miller, while leaning carelessly upon a picking machine, was caught about the elbow, and the whole arm was terribly mutilated. The forearm was literally ground to pieces, and the flesh was torn from the shoulder down to the elbow. The arm was taken off at the shoulder joint, and a portion of the shoulder had to be cut away. The man was still living at last accounts, but his recovery was still doubtful. He had served three years in the army.

RECEPTION OF PENNSYLVANIA BATTLE FLAGS.—It was contemplated that Governor Curtin would receive the battle flags of Pennsylvania regiments mustered out of service at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, at Camp Curtin, either on the Saturday or Monday before the 4th of July, but it is now ascertained that the reception must be deferred for the present. It is now proposed that the time for the reception of the flags of Pennsylvania regiments be deferred until all such organizations have been mustered out of service, or at least until the expiration of the term of such regiments, whose time is about expiring. It will then be formally announced when and where these flags will be received.

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE.—The anniversary exercises of Philo-Franklin Literary Society, of Allegheny College, will take place this evening in Central Hall, Meadville. The "Woodruff Prize Essay" is awarded to E. H. Mechesney, Latrobe, Pa. Subject—"Influence of Clime and Scenery on Character." Valedictory—Dana Hubbard, Wheeling, W. V. Reply—J. A. Simpson, Rosemond, Ill. The exercises of the Allegheny Literary Society will take place on Tuesday evening. The "Hazeltine Prize Essay" is awarded to Henry C. Titus, Philadelphia. Subject—"English Aristocracy." Valedictory—B. E. Edgeville, Warren, O. Reply—W. J. Wilson, Warren, O.

Arrival of Troops.

Yesterday morning the 150th Ohio Regiment, numbering three hundred and eighty-five men, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Rundell, arrived in the city en route to their homes, and was furnished with refreshments by the Subsistence Committee. About six o'clock in the evening, the 112th Illinois Regiment, composed of four hundred and fifty men, under command of Brigadier General T. J. Henderson, its original commander, arrived, and were entertained at City Hall. Sergeant William Valentine, of Company F, of this regiment, was injured near York, on Saturday. He was standing on top of one of the cars, when he was struck on the head by a bridge under which they were passing. His injuries may not prove fatal. A member of the 150th Ohio fell off a transport on the Chesapeake Bay, and was drowned. Both the regiments belonged to the Third Corps, and had been in service nearly three years.

Mr. J. S. Rarey, the Great Horse-Tamer.

The subduer of the renowned horse, "Cruiser," and the originator of the most perfect and effective system of horse-taming yet developed, after remaining for some years in retirement on his fine estate in Ohio, is about to make a tour through the principal Western cities, and will visit Pittsburgh, for the purpose of giving a series of his pleasing, instructive and amusing lectures, commencing on Wednesday evening next, at Lafayette Hall. No person in his profession has ever enjoyed such an extensive or so well-earned a reputation as Mr. Rarey; and no one has done so much toward developing the true nature and instinctive properties of the horse, whose disposition is most generally misunderstood, and, through this misunderstanding, perverted. Rarey's system is based on the law of kindness. He teaches horses through their confidence, and not through their fears. He controls them by gentleness, and not by blows and cruelty. Every owner of a horse should attend his lectures, and see his system put into practical operation, which they will have an opportunity of doing here, as Mr. Rarey will illustrate his remarks by experiments upon a number of badly-broken, wild and vicious horses, belonging to persons residing in the city and vicinity. The ladies, who are always interested patrons of the distinguished lecturer, will find special accommodation made for them.

Death of Judge Wilkins—Meeting of the Bar.

The members of the Bar assembled in the District Court Room on Saturday morning at ten o'clock, for the purpose of taking suitable action in reference to the death of Hon. William Wilkins.

On motion of Judge McCandless, Hon. Thomas Irwin was called to preside. Upon taking the chair, Judge Irwin referred in a feeling manner to the death of their late distinguished fellow member, and paid an eloquent tribute to his memory.

On motion of Judge Hampton, Hon. Wilson McCandless and Hon. Walter H. Lowrie were chosen Vice-Presidents, and on motion of Judge Williams, Messrs. Thomas J. Keenan and James H. Hopkins, Esqs., were appointed Secretaries.

Hon. R. P. Fleniken paid a brief tribute to the memory of Judge Wilkins, whom he regarded as a model worthy of imitation by every member of the Bar. As a lawyer, when in the vigor of his intellect, none rose superior to him. As a Senator, both in the councils of the State and the Nation, he had rendered distinguished services, and in the various positions which he filled he had reflected great credit upon himself and the State to which he belonged. The gentleman concluded his remarks by moving the appointment of a committee to prepare resolutions.

The motion was adopted, and the Chair appointed the following gentlemen on the Committee: R. P. Fleniken, Thos. M. Marshall, J. S. Craft, J. P. Penney, George Shiras, A. W. Loomis, and John H. Bailey, Esqs.

Judge Lowrie, Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., Judge McCandless and Judge Hampton followed in addresses eulogistic of the character of the deceased.

On motion the Committee on Resolutions were requested to meet at half-past eight o'clock this morning, for the purpose of making their report and having it duly entered upon the records of the Court.

The meeting then adjourned.

Repeal of the Connellsville Railroad Charter.

The most interesting case before the United States District Court, in session at Williamsport last week, was the argument on the constitutionality of the repeal of the charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company by the Pennsylvania Legislature last winter a year. The Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad route, extends from Pittsburg via Connellsville to Cumberland, Md., there connecting with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, thus giving another line to the seaboard to the citizens of Pittsburgh and the West. Through various causes it has failed to be entirely completed, and in the winter of 1863-64 the Pennsylvania Legislature repealed its franchises and privileges, and gave them to the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a corporation under the control of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. The parties really at issue are, therefore, the latter named corporation and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

A correspondent says:—There was a fine array of legal talent on both sides. For the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad, ex-Chief Justice Lowrie and George P. Hamilton, Esq., of Pittsburgh, appeared. Mr. Hamilton is a close reasoner, and exclusively devoted to the law. He thinks law, talks law, and reads nothing else. It is said, when he goes to Bedford to recuperate during the summer vacation, instead of taking a summer book for light reading, he takes with him Tenth Wright, State Reports. J. H. B. Latrobe, of Baltimore, and Hon. Reverdy Johnson spoke against the constitutionality of the act of the Pennsylvania Legislature repealing the charter of the Connellsville Railroad Company. There were two cases on the list. First—the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company versus the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad Company; and next, the city of Baltimore versus the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad Company. By mutual consent, the first was dropped from the list, and the merits of the case were argued on the second suit. The city of Baltimore had lent her credit to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad to the extent of $1,000,000, and she asked that the United States Circuit Court restrain the State of Pennsylvania from turning over the franchise and privileges of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad to another corporation, thus letting her out in the cold. On this question, Judge Lowrie spoke on behalf of the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad for more than an hour, and Messrs. Latrobe and Johnson a couple of hours apiece on the other side. The aforementioned act of the Legislature was clearly unconstitutional, and will doubtless be so declared by Mr. Justice Grier; and, therefore, when it came Mr. Hamilton's turn to argue, he declined, but submitted the question to the court on what his brother Lowrie had said. It must be understood, however, that this does not prevent the building of the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad. It only prevents their taking possession of the Connellsville property, road bed, &c.

No Public Demonstration on the Fourth of July.

The Committee appointed at a recent meeting of citizens, to make arrangements for a grand celebration on the Fourth of July, met at Wilkins Hall on Saturday evening, Col. Wm. Phillips, presiding, and Mr. Allen McQuewan acting as Secretary.

The Chairman called upon the Committee on Finance for a report, when the members from the First and Fourth Wards stated that about one hundred and fifty dollars had been subscribed in each of their wards. The committees from the other wards failed to report.

A discussion then ensued as to whether any further effort would be made by the committee to secure funds. The opinion appeared to prevail that the amount required (about $2,000) could not be collected in time to purchase the fireworks. The citizens generally exhibited an apathy towards the project which had not been anticipated, and it was deemed expedient to dispense with any combined movement.

Major A. M. Brown then offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted:

WHEREAS, It appears to be impracticable, for want of a suitable place and proper materials, to get up a suitable display of fireworks under the direction of the Executive Committee, appointed at the meeting of citizens, and that in consequence of the heat of the weather an illumination is undesirable, therefore,

Resolved, That this Committee do recommend to the citizens generally to display fireworks from their own residences on the evening of the Fourth of July.

Resolved, That this Committee appeal to the patriotic people of Pittsburgh to unite en masse in making the proposed display worthy of the grand occasion.

It is to be regretted that the Committee did not meet with sufficient encouragement to justify them in carrying out the programme proposed. The fault, however, rests with the citizens, who failed to furnish the material aid required.

THE CHARTIERS TOWNSHIP RIOT.—On the 14th inst. a disturbance occurred at a pic-nic, given in Chartiers township, during which a bar tender, named Michael Flockenstone, was severely beaten by three men, named S. Grounds, James Drake and Patrick Lyons. Fears were entertained for Flockenstone's recovery, and the defendants were arrested and held to bail to await the result of his injuries. On Saturday, a hearing was had in the case, when Dr. Dickson, Flockenstone's attending physician, testified that he was out of danger. The defendants were then held to bail for their appearance at Court to answer a charge of simple assault and battery.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—To-night, Harry Lewis, the veteran stage manager, is a claimant upon theatre-goers for a benefit. He offers an unusually attractive bill, and as he has labored faithfully during the past season for the pleasure of the patrons of the drama, his services demand some substantial token of recognition. He should have a bumper.

"Old man Chippendale" is about to leave the city, and attach himself to one of the New York theatres. But before he goes, he will have a farewell benefit, on Wednesday evening, at the Pittsburgh theatre, where his friends should rally in their strength.

REPORT.

50 shares Fars. Dep. National Bank	$140
Gold	142½

SATURDAY, June 24—P. M.

The ruling rates for discount with our private banks was wrongly printed in Saturday's issue; it should have read twelve per cent. instead of twenty.

—United States oil stock sold in New York, on Saturday, up to 28.80. It advanced one dollar above lowest quotation of previous day. The Company has declared an extra dividend of ten per cent. All three of the wells of this Company, according to the latest information, are producing largely, and leases are being sold at high bonuses.

—One of the really successful oil companies is the Maple Shade of Philadelphia. It has paid to its stockholders last year $340,000; to the State for taxes $25,041, and has a balance of $35,000 on hand. Its capital stock is $500,000. It declared a dividend last week of four per cent., and an extra one of four per cent. more, making eighty cents a share, and yet such is the discredit which oil stocks have fallen into, that this stock is now selling at about thirteen dollars, only thirty per cent. above par.

—The Philadelphia News, in noticing the depressed condition of the oil stock market in that city, says: "And yet what a broken and mangled aspect does the oil business, as represented by its most vital element, the stock market, present here to-day. Stocks representing in the aggregate millions of dollars of capital, bona fide investments, are kicked about as footballs, and the hoarded earnings of honest men and frugal women are squandered or thrown to the winds, like chaff from the hands of giddy boys. Men who a short time since invested the savings of a lifetime in oil companies, and considered themselves secure against harm, have been ruined by the "Shylocks" and the "thugs" who infest the stock boards and poison the atmosphere in which they discharge their noxious breath; while others again have been sacrificed through the imbecility, stupidity, or reckless villainy of those to whom they have entrusted the management of their affairs. To say that the oil interest, as seen in our city to-day, ought to be in the condition it is, or that there is a legitimate reason for it, is to argue against facts that are impregnable; and to assert that it must necessarily remain so would be a libel on the judgment and skill of a very large number of our people who are interested in it. Who then shall undertake the task of lifting this really great and important interest from its present prostrate position? It needs no Ajax, no Hercules. Neither is there any superior power required to breathe new vitality and energy into it. A combination of effort, governed by sound and prudent management, is necessary. A concert of action on the part of those most deeply, legitimately and honestly interested in it must be had, to take it out of the hands of the Shylocks of the 'lager-beer' board, or the charlatans of the more 'high-toned and respectable' swindlers who loll in the well-cushioned chairs of the 'old board.' Let those who represent honest and legitimate oil enterprise form themselves into an association for the proper protection of the oil interest; and let them put their combined powers against the 'forty thieves,' and so press down on them until they are crushed out of sight. Let the bogus shilling and fifty-cent companies be annihilated and obliterated, and adopt such measures as are necessary to give to fair and legitimate oil companies a status and standing of substantial respectability before the world. A little time, a fair amount of earnest thought, and a good share of intelligent and energetic action would, without doubt, result in removing the incubus that now rests upon the business, and well repay those who give their time and attention to the subject."

—The notes of the Petroleum and Venango County Banks, incorporated under the State general banking law, amounting to $100,000, were destroyed by fire last week, by direction of the Auditor-General. These banks are now doing business under the national banking law.

—The latest reports from the South received by the Government show that there are at least 2,000,000 bales of cotton there. Every effort will be made to bring it to market immediately, and thus relieve the distress prevailing there, as well as give our importers something to draw against in the shape of gold, in payment of their purchases on the other side of the Atlantic.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Monday, June 26, 1865.

BUSINESS remains inactive, the sales made being few and far between. The weather continues very warm. The receipts of produce being in excess of the demand, the market was inactive. As regards the leading articles we have no material change to notice. The sales partake more of a retail than a wholesale character. The dull season is now fairly inaugurated, and large sales can be registered among things of the past. Business seems to be neglected and dealers are turning their attention to oil. Our rivers are falling rapidly and none but light draught boats can venture out with any certainty of reaching port. The Empire City, bound for St. Louis, had the misfortune to ground on Glass House, where she still remained at last accounts. The light draught packet, Pilgrim, left on Saturday evening for Zanesville, with a good trip. The Emma Graham will be due this morning from Zanesville, and will return on Thursday at four o'clock P. M. The Iron City is announced for Cincinnati this day. She has a fair trip. The Minerva will be found at the landing. She will resume her trips in the Wheeling and Parkersburg trade. The Centralia, having completed her repairs, will leave for Cincinnati and Louisville on Tuesday. She is one of the best boats of her class afloat. The Ida Rees left for Cincinnati with all the freight she wanted. The J. S. Hall is among the first boats due.

Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

POTATOES—The market was very firm, a good article being very scarce. We note sales of 50 bush. Buckeyes at $1 15 ₱ bu.; 1 car Peach-blows, $1 10; 25 bbls of very choice at $4 ₱ bbl. The new crop is beginning to arrive; they are not fit for use. Reds—we note sales of 50 bu. 75@80c ₱ bu.

EGGS—Were scarce, the demand being far in excess of the supply. This fact strengthens the market and puts up the figures. We note sales of 11 bbls at 26½@27c.

BUTTER—The market was dull; this, however, is not unusual during the warm weather. Sales of 12 kegs old at 15c; 10 do., a good article, at 14@15c. Choice roll would command 18 to 20c, readily.

BACON—The demand is improving. Holders are asking a slight advance on certain descriptions. There was a fair trade demand arriving. The sales were 1,200 bbls. country sides clear at 16c. Sales of city cured meat as follow: Shoulders 1,000 lbs at 15½c; Sides, ribbed, 2,000 lbs 16½c; Plain Hams 1,500 lbs at 20c; Canvassed sugar cured 2,000 lbs 25@25½c.

LARD—Was not active. We note small sales at 19@19½c.

DRIED BEEF—The market contains a fair supply. We note sales of 500 lbs sugar cured at 20c.

CORN—The market was dull with more sellers than buyers; 1 car shelled was reported at 70c.

OATS—Were in steady demand at previous prices. Sales 1 car in bulk at 56c; 400 bu. do. 58c; 250 do at store 62c.

WHEAT—Was dull. Nobody wants to purchase. Prices irregular; Red $1 35@1 40; White $1 40@1 45.

CHEESE—Was in good demand. Sales were made at a variety of prices, viz: 100 boxes W. R. 14@16c; Goshen 20@21c; 30 do at 18c.

FLOUR—The demand continues restricted to small lots to meet the wants of the home market. The receipts were not large, but the supply was ample for all purposes. Among the sales were Extra Family, 275 bbls assorted at $7 25@8 00 ₱ bbl; these were the store rates. Sales were made from wagon at a variety of prices.

VINEGAR—There were sales of 6 bbls. from store at 30c ₱ gallon.

SUGARS—Were in moderate demand. Sales 15 bbls. fair Cuba at 14@14½c ₱ lb. Sales of 6 hhds Porto Rico at 16c. Crushed was unchanged.

COFFEE—Steady. Sales 12 sacks Rio at 33c.

MOLASSES—Was in fair demand. Sales 10 bbls. new crop Orleans at $1 35; 60 bbls old Muscovado, 87c ₱ gallon.

HAY—The market was poorly supplied. Sales 5 loads at the scales at $15@20 per ton. Baled, sales 10 tons at $14@15.

WHISKY.—Market dull. Sales of City Rectified at $2 08 per gallon.

Large Receipt of Cotton at New Orleans.

The steamer Doubloon arrived from Shreveport on Monday the 12th inst., bringing 1,274 bales cotton. The steamer Grey Eagle arrived from Vicksburg, the same day with 1,163 bales cotton, 13 bags in seed, and a good freight of produce. These are the largest arrivals since the 30th of March last when the Rob Roy, from Red River, brought in 1,574 bales cotton. The receipts of the staple are now steadily increasing, and the total receipts for the commercial week ending last evening embrace 11,819 bales, of which, we are informed 2,711 bales came consigned to the Louisiana State Bank.—N. O. Price Current.

Cleveland Wool Market.

JUNE 24.—Buyers and sellers of this staple are yet wide apart in their views, with very little prospect of coming together at present. Eastern buyers are not yet in the market to any large extent, and the farmers are not sending forward their clips very fast. The market is consequently very much unsettled, with no really established prices. We have heard of a few small lots being sold at the wide range of 50@60c. The market may settle down in a week or two, so that reliable quotations may be given.

All about Tobacco.

At the Tobacco-growers' meeting, held in Louisville, last week, it was decided to hold a national convention of Tobacco-growers, on the second Wednesday in September. One subject to be considered is the just method of taxing tobacco.

The Lynchburg Republican of the 17th inst. says:—The first sale of tobacco since the occupation of the city, was had yesterday, at Friend's warehouse. Five hhds were sold at prices ranging from $2 to $5 per hundred, viz.:—one at $2, one at $3 75, one at $4 25, one at $4 50, and one at $5. The lot was of an inferior quality, coming under the general class known as reviews.

New York Iron Market.

JUNE 24.—There is only the usual moderate trade in Pig, with sales of 300 to 400 tons No 1 Scotch, in lots, at $40@45, as to brand; 500 to 600 do No 1 American at $25@26, and 50 do No 2 at $23 cash.

IMPORTS BY RAILROAD.

Imports per P., Ft. W. & C. Railroad.—J J Rubya, 1 car staves; J C Jenkins, 100 bbls flour, 298 sks oats; Patterson & Aiken, 1 car oats; D Wallace, 159 sks oats; White Bros, 20 mowers; J S Liggett, 1 car wheat; Shomaker & Long, 200 bbls flour.

Imports per Cleveland & Pitts. R. R.—Simpson & Knox, 1,450 bush wheat; J L Liggett & Co, 700 do do; Nimick & Co, 40 tons metal; Flaccus F & Co, 18 sacks scraps; W H Kirkpatrick, 145 sacks bran; McCullough & Co, 12 sides bacon, 5 do shoulders; D Fawcett, 198 bags barley; Simpson & Co, 100 barrels flour; Graff & R, 14 barrels potatoes; Thos Arbuckle 19 bales cotton; A Schaub, 11 boxes tobacco.

Imports per Allegheny Valley R. R.—Martin, Oliver & Bricknell, 1 car iron; J. W. Fairly, 75 bags oats; E. Heazelton, 21 bags potatoes; E. Moore, 30 do. do.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Monday, June 26, 1865.

The following are the receipts of oil for the past week per the Allegheny River and Allegheny Valley Railroad, and also from the opening of navigation to June 24, inclusive:

	A. River.	A. V. R. R.	Total
Monday, June 19	......	1,435	1,435
Tuesday, June 20	2,068	737	2,805
Wednesday, June 21	1,095	1,158	2,253
Thursday, June 22	1,110	985	2,095
Friday, June 23	1,055	959	2,014
Saturday, June 24	1,085	604	1,689
	6,413	5,878	12,291
Since open'g of nav.	143,910	51,590	185,590

The above table will furnish the reader with a bird's eye view of the oil receipts by river and rail since the opening of navigation to the present time. The entire receipts as indicated above, amount to 207,791 barrels, besides this list, a number of parcels have been landed at the various refineries outside the city limits of which we have no account, besides thousands of barrels reach the Eastern markets by the Great Western Railroad, of which we have no record. The week's sales were the largest we have reported for some time. In fact, the market has been pretty well cleared of Crude. The operations during a portion of the week were very heavy. The only round lots on hand being some 8,000 or 10,000 bbls bulk Oil, in tank, and held out of the market for higher prices. The largest single operation in Crude during the week was 2,700 bbls bulk, which changed hands at 21½. How much the owner made by holding on may be estimated from the fact that 22c was refused for this lot on arrival. We have yet to be convinced that the parties holding on pursue the right policy. We firmly believe that the best plan is to sell on arrival, or within a very short period. Every day Oil remains on hand increases the cost. We could illustrate this by many facts that have become familiar to us. The Oil men have a perfect right to sell or hold on, but outsiders will have an opinion. The receipts since our last were large. Navigation during low water being a slow operation. As the refiners have a good supply on hand, the demand was not very extensive.

REFINED OIL.—The market during the past week was active, particularly for bonded Oil, for future delivery. The sales for July, August and September delivery can be counted by thousands of barrels, and some went even so far as to purchase for October delivery. This is certainly looking ahead, but then we are a fast people. The demand on Saturday was active, with a large enquiry for August delivery. Buyers were offering 54½; sellers were holding out for 55. The market closed in favor of holders, who, no doubt, will make the proper use of the same. Benzole—The demand was limited; sales 100 bbls at 42c for free; bonded was held at 21@22c per gallon. Tar was steady, with a good demand; sales of 50 bbls at $8 50.

CRUDE OIL.—The market on Saturday presented no change worthy of notice. Among the sales were the following: 200 bbls at 21½c, packages returned; 650 bbls at 21½c, same conditions; 410 bbls at 21c, bbls returned; 60 bbls heavy oil at 22c, packages returned; 435 bbls at 21½c, packages returned—this would be equal to 26½c with packages included. Sales of 165 bbls amber oil (the terms were withheld), said to be 23c per gallon; sales of 1,500 bbls at 21½c, packages returned; 500 bbls, delivered in Philadelphia, at 33c—this, of course, includes packages.

REFINED OIL.—Market firm; prices looking up; holders of bonded were asking an advance. We note sales of 700 bbls, for August delivery, at 54½c. Nothing doing in free.

Philadelphia Petroleum Market.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.

The market for petroleum is firm, but less active, the difference in the views of buyers and sellers limiting operations. The demand is mostly for refined which is held at 52@52½c, in bond, and 71@72c for free, with moderate sales at these figures, on the spot, and the offerings light. Crude is firmly held at 31@33c; 3,000 bbls sold for future delivery at an advance of 3@4c above these rates. Residuum is steady at $10 25@10 50 ₱ bbl; and Benzine at 37@40c ₱ gallon as to gravity.

The following are the receipts of crude and refined petroleum at this port during the past week:

Crude, barrels	3,634
Refined, barrels	2,742

The following vessels are loading with petroleum for Europe:

New York Petroleum Market.

JUNE 23.—The market for crude has ruled quiet and steady during the past three days, but prices show a slight improvement, in sympathy with the advance in gold. Refined in bond has been in moderate demand, but with a light stock and the rise in gold, holders have manifested increased firmness, and the sales have been mainly at an advance of half a cent on previous quotations. Free has been quiet and the sales have been of an unimportant character. The sales for the three days comprise 5,500 bbls crude, 40@43 gravity, on the spot, at 31@33c; 1,500 bbls crude, 35c, part buyer's and part seller's option; 500 do for August, 35c, B. O.; 3,000 do refined in bond, for immediate delivery, 52c for yellow, 53c for light straw, and 54@54½c for prime light straw to white, the market closing firm at the outside price; 2,000 gallons, in tin cans, 56c; 500 bbls for July, 52½c, S. O.; 500 do for September, 55c, B. O.; 500 do, deliverable in Philadelphia, 53c, B. O.; 350 do free, 68c for straw, 68½c for light straw, 70c for light straw to white, 72c for prime white; 2,000 gallons, in tin cans, 82; and 118 bbls Residuum, $10 50.

Oil City Oil Market.

JUNE 22.—The market still continues to rule quiet. Previous to the recent strike of large wells on Pit Hole there was an upward tendency in prices. But the striking of the two wells on Pit Hole, immediately below the United States well, has rendered buyers timid, and somewhat unsettled matters. We give as the ruling rates at the wells, $6 00@6 50, and report sale of 1,000 barrels of oil at Hamburg well, on Story Farm, at $6 00. Sales also made on Cherry Run at the latter figure. This will give the reader the range of prices on the creek.

NEW YORK, June 24.

STOCKS.

Railway speculation has been unusually quiet to-day; operations were very light, and neither party appeared inclined to press the market. Nearly all stocks remained at about yesterday's quotations. Government securities are firm with more demand for 5-20 State Bonds. Bank shares and Railway mortgages are firm, but quiet.

GOLD.

There was very little activity in gold. Cash gold is scarce and worth ¼ per cent over Sunday. Money unchanged.

PETROLEUM STOCKS.

More active and generally better. Pit Hole Company is steadily advancing; Heydrick and Oil Creek are also rising. Buchanan Farm, 90; Cherry Run, 33; Excelsior, 321; Phillips, 210; Fulton, 600; Pit Hole Creek, 11 35; Terragenta, 250; Webster, 250; Duck Creek, 25; Germania, 45; M'Kinley, 325; United States, 2900; Rynd Farm, 182; Southard, 50; Oil Creek, 725; Oceanic, 180; Heydrick, 375; Fulton, 110; Lamb Farm, 1450; Highgate, 70.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

Closes quiet. There were small sales of crude at 35c. Refined in bond, 50@53c; free, 70@73c.

The Post has the following

REVIEW OF THE WHOLESALE MARKET.

The general character of the wholesale market during the past week has been more active, and a better business for export. Flour has arrived more freely, and under less favorable news from Europe, prices have declined 50 to 60c, and tendency still downwards, at $6@6 15 for extra State; $6 40@6 90 for shipping Ohio, and $9@11 50 for V. Love's extras. Wheat freely offered, and prices declined 5 to 6c, and at the concession there was a better business for export. Oats active, and advanced rapidly, closing firm at 77@77½c for Western; 69@70 for Canada. Corn active, and prices steadily improved; the market closes at 92c for sound mixed, and 80@86 cents for unsound. Pork active and pushed on the market at a decline of $4@4 50, closing at $24 25 for new mess. Beef also pressed on the market, which was very irregular, closing heavy at $10@13 for repacked mess, and $12@15 for extra. Cut meats rapidly advanced and are quite scarce, closing firm at $14@14 25 for dry shoulders, and $18 50@19 for pickled hams. Lard has fluctuated with exchange, and closes steady at 15⅛@18½c for ordinary to prime. Whisky unsettled, and rules very quiet. The seizure of several lots by Government has exercised a depressing influence. Market at the close a shade firmer at $2 02@2 03 for Western.

EVENING STOCK EXCHANGE.

Stocks are dull but firm. Gold active and irregular; on call, gold 141¼; New York Central, 93⅝; Erie, 76½; Hudson, 108¼; Michigan Southern, 59⅞; Illinois Central, 124; Pittsburgh, 68⅝; Rock Island, 101⅛.

New York Gold Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.

Gold quiet. There is a better supply of cash. Some of the larger holders are offering more freely, and the movements of operators indicate an expectation of a yielding in quotations. The rate on gold loans is 1-6 of 1 per cent. per day. Quotations opened at 142⅛, went down to 141⅞, and up again to 142⅛.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.

Money easy at 4@6 ₱ cent. Sterling dull at 109⅞@110. Gold steady, opening at 142⅛, declining to 141⅞, closing at 142⅛. Total exports specie to-day, $210,000. Government stocks easy.

New York Petroleum Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.

Petroleum quiet; crude 35c; refined in bond 50c; refined free, 70@73c.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.

Cotton less active. Prices rule very firm at 41a42c for middlings. Flour opened quiet and steady, and closed dull, 5c lower—$6a6 15 for Extra State; $6 60a6 80 for Extra Round Hoop Ohio, and $6 80 for trade brands. Whisky quiet and firm—Western $2 02a2 03. Wheat opened quiet and closed dull, 1a2c lower—Chicago Spring $1 34; Amber $1 40 last evening and $1 39 to-day; Amber Michigan $1 75a1 75; Racine Spring $1 35½. Rye quiet—Western 87c. Corn 1a2c better—80a87c for unsound; 89a92 for sound mixed Western, latter price for kiln dried. Oats scarce and 1a2c better—76½a77c for Western. Hops quiet—30a35c. Wool dull. Pork dull and lower—$23 87½a24 50 for new mess, closing $24 25 for cash; $23a23 40 for 1863-64 mess; $18a18 50 for prime, and $18 72a19 for prime mess. Beef dull at about previous prices; Beef Hams firm at $27a27 50. Cut Meats steady at 11a14c for shoulders and 15a18c for hams. Bacon quiet. Lard dull at 15a18½c.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, June 24.

Flour dull, and declined 5c; wheat dull and decline 1½c; Corn dull and declined ½c, sales at 59a62c for No. 1, and 55a56 for No. 2; Oats firm and advanced 1@1½c. sales at 56@58c for No. 1. Highwines dull and nominal; Provisions dull. Receipts of flour 6,000 bbls; wheat 60,000 bushels; corn 121,000 bushels; oats 3,000 bushels. Shipments of flour 5,000 bbls.; wheat 15,000 bushels; corn 118,000 bushels. Freights dull.

Oswego Market.

OSWEGO, June 24.

Flour in good demand at $6 75@7 25 for No. 1 spring; $7 50@7 75 for red winter; $8 25@8 75 for white; $9@9 50 for double extra, including extra Ohio at $7 40. Wheat quiet. Amber Michigan $1 60. No. 1 choice spring sold at $1 30; No. 2 do at $1 22. Corn quiet. Oats nominal at 65@66 for Western. Canal freights unchanged.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, June 24.

Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat dull, and inactive and nominal. Corn dull. Barley and Rye nominal. Import of 10,070 bush wheat; 62,208 bush oats; 27,000 barley. Canal exports—Flour, 1,693; wheat 80,767; corn, 10,306; oats, 103,750.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, June 24.

Wheat a shade better; white Michigan, $1 67½; amber Michigan, $1 45½. Corn firm at 61c. Oats firm at 54c. Lake weights steady at 3½c; wheat to Buffalo, 7½c.

New York Grocery Market.

JUNE 24.—Coffee—The market continues depressed, and prices of Rio must again be quoted half a cent lower. The sales include 3,500 bags Rio, per Aquila, on speculation, at 15½c gold, in bond; 4,000 do per Traveller, on private terms; 700 mats Java, 21½@21½c; 100 bbls Jamaica, 20½c, both gold, duty paid; and 25 bags do, 18c gold, in bond.

Molasses—There is no particular change to notice in the market for the common grades. The better qualities are in small supply, and being wanted, prices are higher and tend upward. The sales are 26 hhds Barbadoes at 55@60c; 417 hhds and 300 bbls Porto Rico, 60c for sour, and 65@75c for good to prime; 340 hhds claved Cuba, part inferior, 30@36c; and 483 hhds and 69 bbls Cuba Muscovado, 40@57c, mostly 41@50, 4 mos. The stock yesterday was about 11,500 hhds Cuba and 1,000 Porto Rico.

Sugar—There has been a fair demand for Raw at the reduction in prices noticed in our last, the market, though dull, remaining steady at about the quotations current on Tuesday last. Refined is inactive, prices favor buyers—Hard 19½c; Soft White 16½@18½; and Yellow, 14½@16. Messrs. Stuart have varied their prices. The sales of Raw are 2,244 hhds, and 236 bbls. of Cuba at 10½@12½, and 14½@15c—the higher rates for Clarified and Grocery. St. Jago; 529 Porto Rico, 13@14½, and 161 bxs. Havana, 10½@16½, 4 months. The stock yesterday was about 55,182 hhds., 86,000 bxs., 72,883 bags Sugar, and 1,891 hhds. Melado.

Tea—There is a better general demand from the trade, especially for Green, and the market is firm at very full prices; we notice as something of a novelty, the purchase of 5,000 half chests green, to arrive direct from Shanghae, per Resolute and John Norman, showing great confidence in the prospective of the market. The other sales, including some before our last, are 4,650 half chests colored Japan, 500 Oolong, 2,500 green, and 500 boxes Young Hyson.

Rice—The stock is reduced, and with a fair demand, the market is firm. Sales 2,000 bags Rangoon, mostly for home use, at $9 50@9 75 currency, and $3 62½@3 87½ gold, in bond; and 150 tcs Carolina, $9 75@11, cash.—Shipping List.

Philadelphia Grocery Market.

June 24.—Coffee—There is no stock here to operate in, and little or nothing doing; a few small sales only are reported at 17½c for skimmings, 21½@22c for good Rio, and 23c, gold, for Laguayra.

Sugars—Are firm and moderately active, with sales of about 1,000 hhds., Cuba to note, at 7½@9½c for refining and good grocery qualities; about 500 bbls sugar-house sold at 11c, currency, and 18@19 cents for refined, the latter for hards, which are generally held higher.

Teas are held above the views of buyers, owing to the late advance in gold, and we hear of very little doing in either blacks or greens.

Molasses is rather more active. Sales of 400@500 hhds., mostly Trinidad, are reported at 47@48c, and in small lots at 50c, on time.

Rice is quiet, and the sales limited at 9@9½c for foreign. (250 bags sold in Boston to come here at the lowest figure), and 11½@12c for domestic.

New Orleans Market.

JUNE 16.—Sugar and Molasses—There is very little of either in the market. True, there is very little inquiry or demand, but holders are asking full prices. The sales for the week comprise about 350 hhds and 40 boxes Sugar in many lots to the trade, at 12½@12¾c ₱ lb for common Louisiana, 14½c for fully fair, 16c for yellow clarified, and 18½c for white do; 12½c for common to good common Muscovado, 12½@13c for fair to fully fair do, and 18c for nearly white do, and 500 hhds to the Government at terms which are suppressed, but said to be low. Of Molasses, 300 bbls common Muscovado sold at 58c, and 20 hhds prime at 62½c ₱ galion. The imports during the week comprise 780 hhds, 61 tcs and 448 boxes Sugar. Arrived since the 8th inst, 6 hhds and 35 bbls Sugar, and 321 bbls Molasses. Cleared since the 8th inst, 2 hhds and 22 bbls Sugar, and 5 bbls Molasses.

Philadelphia Iron Market.

June 24.

IRON—There is rather more inquiry for both Pig and Manufactured Iron, and makers, if anything, are a little firmer in their views, the production being very light. Further sales of 1,500 tons anthracite are reported at $32@35 for foundry, chiefly at the latter figure for good No. 1. Scotch Pig is quiet at $44@44 ₱ ton.

BLOOMS—Nothing doing to fix prices.

MANUFACTURED IRON—There is no improvement to notice in the market. Sales of common Bars at $90@$87 50 ton, and Railroad Bars at the same rate.

The Iron and Steel Association, at their recent meeting in Chicago, adopted a resolution in favor of the use of the ton of 2,000 lbs in all transactions.

NAILS—Prices are steady, and there is but little doing.

Printing Cloths.

The Providence Journal says: Market active. Most of the mills sold from one to four months ahead. The printers threaten to import grey goods from England, but it was never known for any money to be made on imported grey printing cloths. A piece of grey goods weighing six pounds may be calculated to contain about a pound and a half of starch or clay, called Fuller's earth. The following are the sales:

3,000 pieces	52x52,	private terms.
20,000	do	60x60,	15c, to be made.
5,000	do	56x60,	16c, on hand.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were five feet water in the channel and falling. The weather continues warm.

THE fine light draught packet J. S. Hall, Captain Gorden, leaves this day at 11 A. M. for Parkersburg and intermediate ports. Our young friend E. P. Young will be found in the office.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Bayard, Capt. Moore. She has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and experienced officers. Our old friend Capt. D. Moore will be found in the office.

THE steamer Iron City, Capt. John Ness, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville this day. This boat is one of the best of her class afloat and offers superior accommodations to persons going that way. Mr. McCreary, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

SALE OF GOVERNMENT VESSELS.—We direct the attention of our steamboatmen to the advertisement in another column, offering for sale a number of Government vessels. Some of these boats are in prime condition, and are well worth the attention of our steamboatmen who may desire to extend their investments in steamboat stock.

Cincinnati.

Saturday's Gazette says: The Underwriter has been wrecking the Highland Chief, and will attempt to raise the Bermuda, sunk at Cumberland Island.

At Louisville the river was slowly rising with five feet four inches water in the canal in the evening, by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had risen two inches at the head of the falls and six inches at Portland. The weather was cloudy and warm during the day, the thermometer at eighty-five, with a heavy fall of rain during the night.

On the falls there were three feet and four inches water down the Indiana chute, and the river swelling.

BOATS AT PARKERSBURG.—We learn from the officers of the J. D. Hinde, which left Parkersburg Thursday morning at half past three, that the following boats were there: Bostona No. 2, Madison, Eagle, J. R. Gilmore, Victor, Viola, Cottage No. 2, Belle, Urilda, J. H. Best, Caroline, Miami, Phantom, Olive, Leonidas, America, Nannie Byers, Huntsman, Petrolia No. 2, Rob Roy, Wanamita, Lady Pike, Navigator, J. G. Blackford, Nightingale, Nevada, Prima Donna, and Liberty No. 4. They met Linnie Brown at Blennerhassett Island; Bengal Tiger, at Goose Island; Revenue, at Letatart, Ohio; Hard Times, at Ashland, Kentucky; Allegheny Belle, at Ironton, Ohio; Clermont, at Greenupsburg, Kentucky; Victress, Edinburg and Minerva, at Quincy, Kentucky; Golden Era, at Manchester.

Louisville.

Thursday's Press says:

THE STEAMER BERMUDA SUNK.—By special dispatch to Capt. Pink Varble yesterday morning, from Smithland, we learn that the Cumberland river packet Bermuda, hence for Nashville, had been snagged and sunk, one mile above Smithland. The dispatch was from Capt. Evans, the Captain of the boat, and the only particulars given are that she sunk in twelve feet of water.

The Bermuda was the regular Louisville and Nashville packet, and left this port last Monday evening, with an assorted cargo of merchandise, flour, drugs, groceries, and agricultural implements, for the Cumberland river, all of which can be raised, though no doubt most of it will be damaged. She is comparatively a new boat; was purchased by Capt. Varble last year. He values her at $30,000, and was covered by insurance in the local offices of this city to the amount of $20,000. We hope to hear of her being speedily raised again.

SOMETHING NEW.
METAL HYDROMETERS,
That will not break or get out of order, for Testing Carbon Oil.
Having succeeded, "by dint of close study and application," in producing a Hydrometer in metal for testing Carbon Oil, I respectfully offer it to the attention of Dealers and those engaged in Refining, as an article that will not break or get out of order; its adjustment being so simple that any one may readily understand it. To those constantly using this instrument it will be found a great boon, as an article that has long been inquired after, and which needs only to be seen to be appreciated.
For sale by the Manufacturer.
GEO. E. SHAW,
No. 58 Fifth street.
